Attitude of France Is Not Of Aggression but of Need To Provide for Her Safety of the Covenant of the League of Nations, the Locarno Treaty of the Briand-Kellogg pact. But only the French look upon France's fears of aggression as having any basis in fact. Universally outside of French circles it is felt that France might remove every obstacle to a five-power treaty in London without taking any national risk worthy of serious consideration.

RELIES ON NEGOTIATION

There seems to be ever reason to believe that France came to London—quite rightly from her standpoint—in the hope of improving her political and strategic position by negotiation rather than by persisting in her program of naval construction. She wanted a Mediterranean Locarno embracing, besides herself, Great Britain, Italy and Spain. She also had taken some notice of the possible worth of a weaker treaty—something like the conference feature of the Washington Pacific Treaty—in the event that a Mediterranean Locarno agreement was impossible. Her main hope, however, lay in the possibility of a treaty supplementing the Briand-Kellogg pact, so as to bring the stupendous power of America definitely into line against aggression. If it proved out of the question to get any of these contractual guarantees, France was disposed to insist upon a global tonnage of 800,000.

A KNOTTY POINT

America's moral position in this matter is very strong. In one particular, she can point to her immense naval sacrifices at the Washington Conference. She can point to her continuing desire to cut down sea armaments, though she is financially better prepared to build and maintain them than any other nation, not excepting France. But what is her answer to France's case couched in these words: "You have no part in the League of Nations nor in the Locarno Treaty, and you will not say what you will do with your navy if Great Britain attempts to carry out her obligations under either?"

FEARS ARE REAL

Unreal as France's fears may seem to British eyes, Italy, Japan and America, they are real enough for her. Their reality requires no further proof than France's willingness to forego warship building for her own defence if Great Britain and America will give her some treaty assurance that she shall not be attacked. Her distrust, it should be repeated, is directed not toward either of the chief naval powers, but toward Germany and Italy. "If we are so sure," she says to us, "that we are safe, why do not you yourselves do something to fortify our legal defences?"

MANY CHANGES IN BROKERAGE LAWS PLANNED

In order to secure all sides to the situation the conference tomorrow will hear representations from the Toronto Stock Exchange and the Vancouver Stock Exchange. They will come from members of the exchanges. At a later date in the week, representatives from the Canadian banks will be heard. It is not expected that the conference will conclude until Friday.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

In a statement to the press tonight Colonel Price said the utmost unity prevailed at the conference, and that very substantial progress had been made.

It is one of the aims of the conference to prevent bucketing and illegal short selling on the part of brokers. These very involved subjects were discussed at length today and will continue to occupy the centre of the stage until means have been devised to curb them. One suggestion that will be entertained will deal with the incorporation into the Canadian Fraud Prevention Act of some of the legislation of New York State.

"Under the Canadian laws bucketing is treated under the Criminal Code as theft and is prosecuted as such. In New York, however, there is a technical difference in the law which makes prosecution easier and gives more protection to the clients of brokers."

TO AMEND STATUTES

Not only will the Securities Frauds Act be amended, but also some other statutes. The Companies Act, the Dominion Companies Act and the Criminal Code will be changed to correspond with the correlated Fraud Acts of the various provinces.

The Dominion Companies Act and the Criminal Code will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Federal Government, and it will be necessary to confer with the Department of the Minister of Justice after conference here.

Another matter that will be brought before the conference will be the adoption of the "Loan Post" system of the New York Stock Exchange.

This has to do with the loaning of stock between brokers to be posted as collateral in a short selling transaction.

The courts have ruled such a transaction to be quite legal. It will also be suggested that before an issue is placed on an exchange board, 90 per cent of the stock must be in the hands of the public. This will be to stop brokers from buying up large bodies of shares and taking options on others, and thereby maintaining control of the price quoted. This practice, it is said, not only affects the investor but also the company which desires to carry on development work with cash secured from the sale of its stock.

"Smith wants to borrow $100. Is he good for it?"

"Yes, with proper securities."

"What would you suggest?"

"A chain and padlock, a pair of handcuffs and a good watchdog."

NO MORE GAS IN STOMACH

Daily Use of Mucronal Mucronal Keeps Stomach Healthy and Free From Indigestion

Gas in the stomach and indigestion are due, in nearly every case, to the presence of harmful acid in the stomach, creating sourness, fermentation and the pain of delayed digestion. These dangerous and unpleasant conditions are brought about by the action of the stomach's own acid, which is secreted by the stomach's own cells. Mucronal Mucronal is the natural and healthiest remedy for the stomach's own acid. It is a natural and healthiest remedy for the stomach's own acid. FOUR PEOPLE BURN IN FIRE AT FARM

BROCKTON, Mass., Feb. 10.—Four persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the city farm early today. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition. The institution housed thirty-five inmates.

RESERVE SET ON SITE FOR AUDITORIUM

estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000.

The committee believed that from information in its possession the revenue from skating would enable the auditorium management to show a substantial profit over cost of operation.

Mr. Carmichael pointed out that the committee considered four possible sites. Two involved purchase of private property and were eliminated. Finally the committee unanimously selected six lots on Belleville Street, Lots 30 to 35 inclusive, Map 760, situated between Douglas and Blanshard Streets, as the most suitable. The following were the principal reasons for this choice:

(1) Readily accessible from all parts of the city.

(2) More adequate parking space for cars than other possible sites.

(3) Convenient to the largest hotel in the city and equally convenient to the Canadian National Hotel if and when built on a site owned by that company.

(4) Close to the Crystal Garden.

DIVERSION OF STREET

The use of the suggested site, he said, would necessitate the diversion of a part of Belleville Street, between Douglas and Blanshard, as the site itself is not quite the right shape or quite large enough for the proposed buildings.

"Despite the fact that the evidence before the committee proved that the construction of auditoriums are invariably financed directly by the city or part by the city and part by private subscription, the committee feels," said Mr. Carmichael, "that the proposal to combine an auditorium with a skating arena makes it possible to present a proposition to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company for the construction and operation of the auditorium which will appeal to that company. These findings were presented to the Chamber of Commerce directors and by unanimous resolution this committee was authorized to wait upon the City Council and request the council to:

(a) Reserve from sale for a period of six months Lots 30 to 35, inclusive, Map 760.

(b) Permit the Chamber of Commerce to negotiate with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company in an endeavor to get that company to construct and operate the auditorium on terms satisfactory to the city and the company, it being understood that the city's contribution would include the lease of the site at a nominal rental, the carrying out of the necessary diversion of Belleville Street, with fixed taxation for a period of years.

"As it is of great importance to the community to have an ice skating rink ready for use by October of this year, we trust that you will meet with the request of this committee," Mr. Carmichael concluded.

COMMITTEE THANKED

Before the deputation retired, Mayor Herbert Anascomb, on behalf of the council, thanked the chamber's auditorium committee for kindly presenting it with the data on the project, and explaining the proposal in such a lucid manner.

The Chamber of Commerce representatives in respect to the combined auditorium and skating arena plan were fully discussed later in the evening by the council, which decided, on motion of Alderman E. S. Woodward, that it would reserve from sale for six months the said six lots, as desired.

The council approved a motion of Alderman W. T. Straith, that the council was not yet prepared to deal with the second request of the committee, but would be glad to do so when more definite plans were presented to the council.

British Boycotting of Canadian Wheat Denied

Regina. His whole attitude with respect to the wheat situation was made clear by his declaration that the Federal Government had not received any request for assistance from the western wheat pool. If such a request had come to Ottawa, he was quite satisfied that he would have known of it.

It is suggested here that the apprehension created in regard to the wheat situation may be due partly to propaganda engineered by those who are anxious to depress prices. The quantity of wheat held in Canada at present, according to authorities, is about the same as last year, but the quality of grain in Canadian elevators at present is far superior. While good European crops and the fact that the Argentine crop is beginning to flow into Europe may be factors in holding down prices, the feeling is that Canadian wheat will find a good market.

POOL ALL RIGHT

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 10.—The wheat pool is all right, asserted Donald Kennedy, M.P. for Peace River, when he arrived in the capital today in preparation for the opening of Parliament ten days hence. The farmers would have got about five cents a bushel for their grain if they had dumped last fall's crop along with the Argentine. The present situation is brought about by the ordinary process of orderly marketing, he added.

With regard to assertions that Canadian farmers were attempting to hold up Europe by putting an embargo on grain exports, the Peace River member said it was "nonsense" and that propaganda emanating from those who would discredit the pool.

U.S. WANTS TO GET NEW BATTLESHIP

Mr. MacDonald, after opening the meeting as chairman, will give the floor to Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty. Colonel Henry L. Stimson, head of the United States delegation, will follow the First Lord and is preparing his address on lines of fullest support of the British policy.

WANTS TO BUILD

The conference ship today was driving full steam ahead, with all hands at their posts, and there was a noticeable thinning out of the smoke screen under which it has been steaming at times.

With the partial dispersal of this artificial fog came the first official confirmation of the news that the United States desires the privilege of building another battleship of the Rodney type in connection with the plan for reducing capital-ship fleets and establishment of parity between Great Britain and the United States.

The Rodney and the Nelson are the two largest battleships in the British fleet. Jane's Fighting Ships gives the standing displacement of the vessel as 35,000 tons; with full load, of about 40,000 tons.

TOPIC OF TALK

This American proposal was one of the main topics of discussion in conference circles today.

The American suggestion for building another battleship in connection with the scrapping of others caused surprise in British circles, and it was understood that it did not meet with any great degree of applause.

Great Britain approved the plan for scrapping capital ships so that the two countries will have fifteen each. The United States feels she needs the right to replace parts of the scrapped tonnage with a new ship so as to give real parity, although probably she would not build up to it. The British today took the position that the United States would have superiority under these conditions.

STANDING PAT

The American delegates to the conference are standing pat on their claim for 135,000 tons of aircraft carriers, as opposed to the British proposal that tonnage be limited to 100,000 for the United States and Great Britain.

The United States possesses 66,000 tons. Her position is that aircraft carriers are in the experimental stages, and that an additional tonnage of only 34,000 will be sufficient to get the full value out of the experiment.

VATICAN HAS LARGE PROBLEM

Religious Tolerance in Russia Will Be Aim of Pope Pius During Ninth Year of Pontificate

MASSACRES HAVE STIRRED ACTION

By WILLIAM H. STONEMAN
 (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

ROME, Feb. 10. — Apparently deeply gratified and encouraged by the accomplishments of his eighth year as head of the Roman Catholic world, Pope Pius XI seems to have dedicated the ninth year of his pontificate, which begins officially next Wednesday, to the most grueling task of all—a battle to the finish with the Soviet Government on the question of religious tolerance. His letter to Cardinal Basilio Pompili, Bishop of Velletri and vicar-general of Rome, which was published Saturday, is enough to convince doubters that any possible negotiation between the Vatican and Moscow, such as that rumored last April, is now out of the question, and that from now on Pope Pius will use every force at his command to bring the Bolshevik regime to an end.

AGAINST TERRORISM
 Perhaps the most unusual section of the letter was the plea it contained not only to Roman Catholics but to all members of the Christian world to join in a crusade against Red terrorism. It is not usual for the Pope to appeal to Protestants in this manner and all the more impressive.

Although Pope Benedict XV, predecessor of Pius, waged a similar campaign against Soviet policies, there is little doubt that the present Pope at one time was willing to treat with the Bolsheviks in regard to the Russian religious question. However, the atrocities and the antireligious activities of the Soviets during recent months have been too much for even such a conciliatory nature as his to bear.

CLEVER MOVE
 The fact that Pope Pius chose this time, when the civilized world is aroused by the reports of wholesale massacres in Russian prisons and the disappearance of Gen. Alexander Paul Koutepov in Paris, to make his plea is considered a clever move.

INTRIGUE AIDING CHINA'S TROUBLE

Manchuria Resents Attitude of President of China in Ending Row With Soviet Russia

By PAUL WRIGHT
 (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Feb. 10.—Gen. Yen Hsi-Shan, celebrated "model governor" of Shansi Province, a powerful warlord of undetermined allegiance, whose support to any of the opposing factions could change the political complexion of China, is reported to have sent a telegram to Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang, Governor of Manchuria, asking him to join in a combination against Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, generalissimo and President of China.

Young Marshal Chang, whose Government has lately taken action decidedly independent of Nanking in external affairs, notably the railway row with Soviet Russia, is likely to join the scheme if the fortunes of General Chiang Kai-Shek continue adverse, according to the rumor which remains to be verified. Likewise, General Chiang's journey from Nanking in the interior, where recently he has had to stamp out sporadic military revolts, to Canton, is connected with an alleged hostile cabal fomented by the Red elements in the South.

City Receives Over $175,000 In Prepayments

THE sum of $175,717 has been paid into the city treasury in prepaid taxes by 819 persons between January 1 and February 10, the first week of 1930. City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith said yesterday. A total of $7,454.06 will be relegated in interest to reimburse taxpayers. The prepayment of civic taxes system continues in popularity, with an increasing amount of taxes paid in advance and a greater number of taxpayers availing themselves of the facilities thus afforded with each succeeding year.

NOTED GERMAN SOCIALIST DIES

PAUL LEVI FALLS FROM WINDOW WHILE SUFFERING FROM PNEUMONIA

Helped Oppressed Politically and Defended Victims of Social Injustice

By E. A. MOWBR
 (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BERLIN, Germany, Feb. 10.—A friend of Germany's "politically oppressed" is dead.

A man suffering from pneumonia rose from bed while his nurse was absent yesterday morning and opened his window. When the nurse returned, he was empty, and on the sidewalk five stories below was found the body of Paul Levi, Socialist member of the Reichstag and defendant in fifty so-called political cases.

This man, from a good middle-class family, had early become a communist, but left the party because he was disgusted with Moscow's tactics of sacrificing human lives for political propaganda. Yet he was a personal friend of the radical Rosa Luxemburg and fought for all whom he considered oppressed. He joined the Socialists. During the antirevolutionary period he was arrested and the establishment of the Bavarian Republic. Mr. Levi protected all so-called radicals and real radicals whom he considered unjustly charged by the guardians of the established order. As a lawyer, that is, as a defendant, he was a marvelous orator and a shrewd logician. Almost always he refused to take money from his clients, fighting purely for his conception of social justice.

But Mr. Levi's defect was that he remained a negative and critical spirit who could not understand that politics means compromise, moreover, he alienated many of his Socialist friends by his bourgeois tastes for he collected rare china, read all sorts of books, frequented nonsocialist circles and wrote monographs on the political life of ancient Greece and Rome. Mr. Levi was one of the most interesting personalities in German politics, and his death will weaken his party. But most, he will be mourned by those whom he defended in the cause of abstract justice.

CEMETERY BOARD MEETS TONIGHT

Chairman and Committee of Victoria-Saanich Trustees Body to Be Appointed at City Hall

The first meeting of the 1930 Board of Cemetery Trustees of Greater Victoria will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, at the City Hall. The board will choose a chairman for the next twelve months, and the standing committees on finance and buildings and grounds will be appointed.

The board is composed of Aldermen J. A. Worthington, H. C. Titchfield and Robert Smith, representing the city of Victoria, and Councillors H. C. Oldfield and Frederick Borden, and ex-Councillor Francis Simpson, representing Saanich Municipality. Mr. H. G. Allan is the secretary.

At last night's meeting of the City Council, Mr. Allan submitted a report covering the work of the Board of Cemetery Trustees of Greater Victoria during the past year. The statement showed that the income during 1929 was $20,260.90, as against $17,756.25 for 1928, an increase of $2,504.65.

The total number of graves sold last year at the Royal Oak Burial Park was 434, in which 310 interments were made. A number of improvements were made to the park, as well as some new equipment supplied.

CENTRAL RATEPAYERS TO HEAR SCHOOL REQUIREMENTS

A meeting of the Central Saanich Ratepayers' Association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, in the Tolmie School, Boleskine Road. The reeve and chairman of the School Board are invited to attend as the proposed high school will be the principal question under discussion. As the association has not met for a considerable time it is important that all delegates from the various wards attend. Mr. Frank Miller, president of the association, will be in the chair.

Financial Basis Of Railways May Be Much Changed

(Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters)
 SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 10.—The Australian Loan Council has been discussing the need of placing Australian state railways on the same commercial basis as the Canadian National Railways, under business men who would raise money needed for financing developments. This was revealed by Hon. Bertram Stevens, assistant treasurer of New South Wales.

CITY COUNCIL GIVEN PRAISE BY REALTORS

Reduction in Mill Rate and Expediting of Civic Business Described as "Very Satisfactory"

CO-OPERATION OF BOARD EXTENDED

Commendation of Mayor Herbert Anscomb and the members of the City Council upon the excellent manner in which the civic business this year has been carried out and expedited was expressed at last night's council meeting, in a communication from Mr. Hubert Lethaby, secretary of the Real Estate Board of Victoria.

The Real Estate Board stated that at one of its recent meetings reference was made to the reduction in the mill rate for 1930, and the fact that such has been struck so early in the year, thus enabling tax payers to be dispatched by the city treasurer in good time, so that property owners may know their payments to the corporation.

"This is all very satisfactory," the realtors declared, "and the members of the board have promised to do their utmost to see that tax payments, due by their clients, are paid promptly into the city treasury, the prepayment plan being adopted wherever possible."

The Real Estate Board assured the council that it would render the council any assistance at any time, and would gladly welcome any request for co-operation from the corporation.

Penetration of Films From U.S. Still Increases

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—Canada doubled her imports of motion pictures and "talkies" from the United States in 1929. Up to the end of September last the Dominion had imported 8,000,000 feet of film valued at $636,000 from the United States. On the other hand importation of British films to that date was 397,000 feet valued at $28,500.

MOTORISTS MUST EXERCISE CARE

May Drive to Common Danger Even When Speed Not Excessive, Magistrate Warns

"Many people seem to think that they are not driving to the common danger, as defined by law, unless they are travelling at an excessive speed," Magistrate George Jay remarked in the Esquimalt police court yesterday, "but the act requires them to drive at all times in a careful and prudent manner, having regard to all conditions, such as the weather, the character of the road, visibility, and the volume of traffic to be expected."

These observations were made in explanation of a fine of $20 imposed on Gordon M. Dunnett, whose car, following a skid on Esquimalt Road, at Signal Hill, had swung across the street railway tracks, jumped the sidewalk and broken down part of a picket fence. Evidence given for the prosecution by Constable Peckhold included testimony that the driver and his companion, C. Richardson, were not under the influence of liquor; and evidence given for the defence by Richardson and Dunnett was that the car was travelling at less than thirty miles an hour at the time. Coming round the curve at that point, the car had skidded on a wet spot, they said, and a hind wheel had struck the track and burst the tire. In endeavoring to straighten out and at the same time avoid a telephone pole, the accident had happened.

The court held that, having regard to the curves in the road at that point, the condition of the pavement and the traffic to be expected, the car could not have been driven in the careful and prudent manner required by law, or a skid would not have the effect described in this case.

Large Industry Now Projected For Coquitlam

MAILLARDVILLE, Feb. 10.—A project entailing the expenditure of $15,000,000 may be launched in Coquitlam municipality in the near future.

Reeve R. C. Macdonald stated that a California concern has acquired options on a site for a mill and timber limits within the municipal boundaries and adjoining the Fraser Mills, and that the company intends to erect a paper mill.

The agent of the parties concerned has written to the Coquitlam Municipal Council in connection with a tax rebate over a period of years.

SIZE OF BATTLESHIPS
The proposals put forward by politicians as to how naval reductions can be effected have, in some cases, only a superficial value. There is the case of the suggestion for the reduction of the size of battleships to 15,000 tons. This would mean, necessarily, a reduction in the size of guns and in the weight of armor. Thus a condition would be created which Admiral Sir Frederick Tudor, a form Sea Lord, says would render such ships more susceptible to torpedo attack. In fact the reduction in the size of capital ships would mean heavier loss of life in naval warfare. The modern torpedo, Sir Frederick points out, carries a tremendous charge, but not one great enough to sink a modern battleship. All it does is to bite a piece out of the side of such a vessel. On the other hand, a ship of 15,000 tons subjected to torpedo attack would probably sink very quickly, whereas there would be no vital damage done to the vessel of 35,000 tons.
The experience of the Great War must, of necessity, be a guide to the Five-Power Naval Conference. Some of the older battleships of Great Britain were sunk by torpedo attack in the Dardanelles during that struggle, but not a single British battleship of modern construction suffered in this way. There is a grave consideration affecting any decision arrived at about the size of capital ships. In other words, any substantial limitation in tonnage, such as the 15,000-ton limit, would greatly enhance the fighting value of submarines and those other warcraft whose principal weapon of offence is the torpedo. Superficial opinion applauds every new suggestion affecting reductions in naval armament without considering what it would mean in its effect on the value of preserving life in time of war.

CONVALESCENT NATIONS
One of the most encouraging features of the international situation is revealed in the various national budgets, disclosing as they do the financial condition of Europe. In country after country floating debts have been funded, budgets balanced and the dire uncertainties of only three years ago dispelled. A Europe headed towards bankruptcy was a menace to the world as well as to itself. Today all the Powers that engaged in the war, with four exceptions, have managed to strike a balance in their budgets, and the revenues of fifteen of twenty-six European combatants and neutrals are now greater than expenditures, the deficits of the remaining eleven being relatively small, except in the case of Soviet Russia.

Perhaps the most striking instance is France. The heavy deficits which followed the war have gone and a real surplus is being applied to debt amortization. Only a few years ago the franc had sunk to low levels and the financial ship of state appeared to be foundering. Drastic remedies were adopted. Taxes were applied to every activity of life, and now France is in a singularly liquid condition. Its gold holdings are phenomenal, and its financial position, internationally speaking, is an exceedingly powerful one. It is true that the people have carried a grievous burden of taxation, but they have stood it well, and now they face early relief.
France has more to boast of than financial solvency. Crops have been good, unemployment is absent, and marked prosperity continues in the coal, steel, mechanical and electrical industries. Needless to say, France protects her home markets by a sensible system of tariffs. The horizon, industrially speaking, is black in the Old Country. The troubles of the coal industry and unemployment still face the Government like two spectres which will not be exorcised. The cotton and woolen trades, for example, are in far from a satisfactory condition. In many previously "safeguarded" industries manufacturers are anxious because they do not know whether this protection is to be continued or not. Such uncertainty is bad for business. Despite this fact, in a number of lines, such as automobile, electrical, chemical, dyestuffs and rayon there is a mounting output and a progressive demand abroad. The most remarkable phase of European recovery, however, would seem to be that of the most conspicuous combatants, France and Germany. The way in which these two nations pulled themselves back from the brink of disaster speaks well not only for the likelihood of economic stability in the immediate years ahead, but for the inherently constructive and courageous qualities of mankind.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT
In the United States a controversy is raging around the enforcement of Prohibition. Whenever Prohibition is discussed, to the extent of its operation having proved a failure, there is advice from all quarters urging that new threads should be sewn into the patchwork quilt of enforcement. The present controversy centres on enforcement, which, in nearly a decade of trial, has been found wanting in so many respects. The conclusion is that the penalty for taking a drink of alcoholic liquor, for manufacturing such a drink and for smuggling it into the country does not fit the crime. The preventive army of the Volstead Act has not hesitated to shoot to kill, and has killed in the discharge of its prohibitory duties. The man in charge of the administration of the Volstead law has come to the conclusion that there would be very little use in spending more money on preventive methods, inasmuch as new prison accommodation would have to be found for those charged with liquor crimes and the courts are already so cluttered up with cases that additions in arrests would mean more judges. In other words, were enforcement more rigid the machinery of the law would have to be amplified to an almost inconceivable extent.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has issued figures showing that deaths from acute and chronic alcoholism in the United States last year were nearly six times greater than in the first year of Prohibition. In Canada, throughout almost the entire area in which liquor control prevails, the mortality from alcoholism is almost negligible. Whatever may be said in defence of the policy of Prohibition, the plain evidence of fact is that it does not prohibit, and there is no new mentality being manufactured in the United States to make a considerable percentage of the people there agreeable to the Eighteenth Amendment that has been written into their constitution. That percentage, even if a minority of the population, is still in opposition to being compelled to take the moral potion of Prohibition, chiefly because the attempt is being made to force it upon them. There are some philosophies 2,000 years old that the officialdom of the United States does not seem yet to have absorbed. One of these is that authority which is obtained by force is not so firm and not so lasting as that which is acquired by good will.

France is increasing her air estimates for the present year by a sum of $8,000,000 over those of 1929. It is significant that in these estimates there is a very large preponderance of naval and military expenditure over that allotted to commercial aviation. The total expenditure is to be upwards of $83,000,000, and of this amount some $18,000,000 is set apart for civil aviation. France is determined to win a foremost place in the development of a fighting air force, and possibly when the present estimates were framed the view was held that something would have to be done to offset any reduction in naval armaments which might be agreed to at the present London Conference.

Detroit, among other cities on the American side, is not chary in its criticism of the inefficiency of police forces in rounding up criminals. The Detroit Free Press says: "It will increase public confidence in the police force if the officers composing it can manage to find out who it was that shot one of its inspectors in broad daylight, while he was wide awake and looking on."
Charlottetown, P.E.I. in the matter of traffic has set a record for emulation to the rest of Canada. With a population of 12,350 there are 1,147 motor cars in the town and there was not a single fatality through their use in 1929. That is an illustration of how vigilance is the price of safety.

In the United States there is over-production in the dairy industry and the people there are being asked to eat more butter. In Canada the industry has suffered ever since the Canadian-Australasian Treaty of 1925. With the decline of our industry the imports of butter from New Zealand continue to increase.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE RATES
The Labor Party declares that the present rates are inadequate to support a satisfactory standard of life. They should remain so. Unemployment benefits is no longer insurance, but a dole. Insurance covers a temporary risk and not a permanent condition, such as we have had for the last eleven years and bid fair to have for eternity. The present rates for adults were proposed by the Blankenshore committee, which Miss Bonfield was a member. If the dole was large enough to maintain a satisfactory standard of life, many people would give up looking for work, and an abnormal army of unemployment would be with us permanently. Further, doles already serve to create scarcity of labor by creating a minimum wage which is too high for some industries and trades to pay. There is a notorious scarcity of domestic servants, because domestic servants have become factory hands in order to qualify for unemployment pay. Unemployed pay should be no more than is necessary to keep them from starving, and low enough therefore to make a man prefer work to idleness.—Review of Reviews (London).

NOT FOR SALE
"Lord Oliver has influenced Trinidad opinion by daring to refer to the cynical proposal to sell the British West Indies to the United States." So far as Trinidad is concerned, the colony has no intention of being driven out of the Empire and refuses to be bartered for war debts, or any other form of liability. During the war the West Indies gave sufficient proof of their loyalty. Not only did they send money and troops, but there were no murmurs when their output of sugar was thrown into a common pool. Operating companies cheerfully sacrificed their profits they would have made had they been American subjects. They paid through the nose for the privilege of being British—and they would be ready to pay again tomorrow.—Trinidad Guardian.

Note and Comment
By R. B. D.
Men may come and men may go, but I go on for ever.
On Friday last our old but ever-young friend and contemporary, Mr. Bernard McEvoy, celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday. And we would not be surprised if told that on the morning of that day "Diogenes" trimmed and lit the lamp in his lantern and went forth in search, not of honest men (although there may be an honest man or two left in Vancouver to leaven the mass of thugs infesting the city), but of something to write about in his interesting weekly column of comment.

There is a great deal of writing in the newspapers and discussion on the public platforms in these days of unemployment and doles about the allotted span of physical and mental labor. A few years ago a Canadian physician, who afterwards became an American lecturer and British professor, declared that all men after they had attained a certain span of life should be asphyxiated—painlessly, of course—for they had shot their vital bolt and could be of no use whatever in the world. That philosophical declaration "started something," to use a term often heard in the sporting department. It started the superannuation movement which has spread throughout all parts of this world. Nowadays, immediately a man has attained the allotted span, he is subject to forcible retirement, although his natural force may not be in the least abated, and by reason of maturity of judgment and depth of experience he may be more capable of doing valuable work for the institution with which he is connected and for the world at large than the majority of his fellow-workers.

The case of Mr. McEvoy demonstrates that an arbitrary rule may not be applicable to all cases and every person. Possibly there may be circumstances which alter the cases, such as the mental and physical circumstances of the occupant and the nature of the duties to be discharged. In respect of all these circumstances journalism must be a preferred or safeguarded profession; but even the preferred profession of journalism cannot be safeguarded against one besetting weakness or sin. That is the unforgivable sin of staleness. We suppose our friend "Diogenes" in the course of his long professional life has seen hundreds of his contemporaries become weary of the daily grind, wither, decay and depart. But he seems to be absolutely exempt from the ordinary enemies of the mind and the flesh. He is as fresh and refreshing as the "flowers that bloom in the spring," which have something to do with the case. He has seen many journalists come and go, but he will go on forever. While extending the usual congratulations, we cannot congratulate the Vancouver journalistic philosopher on his job. He will carry his lantern a long time and peer into many crannies before he finds a really honest man in Vancouver.

We notice by the papers that a story-teller with no nonsense about him has been dealing honestly and forcibly with alleged story-tellers who have been exploiting the late war and the existing peace for professional purposes. Ian Hay declares that most of the writers who write about the war and the conduct of soldiers in the war know little or nothing about the war or the conduct of the soldiers. The popular story-teller knows what he is talking about, for he was a soldier in the war and he was a novelist before the war.
Most of the writers who have been telling stories about the war admit that they obtained all their facts second-hand—from soldiers "fed-up" with recollections of their war experiences. We have met and talked with a considerable number of returned men, and have found out that if there was one subject those men were loath to discuss it was the war. We have read pages of some of the stories based upon the war, but have never been able to finish reading one of those stories except one, because of a conviction that the writers of erotic books had found out that the theme of sex-appeal had lost its savor and that a new field of exploitation must be sought.

The story based upon the war which we have just finished reading was written by John Galsworthy. After we had finished reading the book we were convinced that Galsworthy knew as much, or as little, about the war as the majority of his literary contemporaries, and that even one of the greatest of modern story-tellers was not above or beyond exploitation of erotic subjects. But there is a passage in "Balan's Progress" which we shall quote because it seems to express the views of the literary coteries of the present day and may explain the declaration of G. K. Chesterton that he had seen England a Christian country and had lived to see it, a pagan country. Here is the passage, in part:

"You see, I think mind and matter are one, or perhaps there is no such thing as either mind and matter, only growth and decay and growth again, forever and ever, but always conscious growth—an artist expressing himself (the speaker was a painter, probably mythical) in millions of ever-changing forms; decay and death, as we call them, being but rest and sleep, the ebbing of the tide, which ever must come between two rising tides, or the night which comes between two days. But the next day is never the same as the day before, nor the tide as the last tide, so the little shapes of the world and of ourselves, these works of art by the Eternal Artist, are never renewed in the same form, are never twice alike, but always fresh—fresh worlds, fresh individuals, fresh flowers, fresh everything. I do not see anything depressing in that. To me it would be depressing to think I would go on living after death, or live again in a new body, myself yet not myself. How stale that would be!"

RIPPLE ROCK
Sir—Are we to stand idly by and allow another prop to be removed so that the ultimate development of Vancouver Island will be set back twenty years until engineers of the future can build bridges with a two-thousand-five-hundred-foot span? I am informed that if Ripple Rock is left alone, a 1,300-foot span will be the widest span needed. Then again, as to cost, is it not much exaggerated as set forth by one of the writers. At no time by competent engineers has the bridge portion cost been estimated at more than $8,000,000.
The Canadian Terms prop was taken from us. Under that agreement, if carried out at the time, Victoria would have been double in population as compared to Vancouver.
Then the British Pacific agreement to build the road met with a fate not deserved, due to another influence working—against Victoria, assisted by Victorians who were not alive to their own interest.
A bridge of modern construction is what we want. A ferry is not good enough. The bridge would be best and cheapest in the long run. Come along, Islanders! on to the Peace River country by rail. Guard your heritage—then we shall flourish and nothing can keep us back.
E. H. CAREY,
716 View Street, Victoria, B.C.

VIA SEYMOUR NARROWS
Sir—Now that the subject of Ripple Rock in the Seymour Narrows has been brought up by Mr. R. T. Williams, a matter of very great interest to the people of Victoria and Vancouver Island in general, it is strange and newspapers and also the Chamber of Commerce have not brought to the front the need of railroad connection with the Mainland. The section will be built, which is sure to come in the future. It would be wise if our members of Parliament could see to it that there should be no interfering with Ripple Rock, which makes it possible and logical to bridge Seymour Narrows. Now that the Peace River country is looming up with its great resources, the section will, with connection with the Coast. It will be of great advantage to the people of Vancouver Island if no shipping companies or other interests should be allowed to tamper with Ripple Rock. There have been no more shipwrecks there than in the case of vessels going through Plumpers Pass or the Narrows going to Vancouver. The Dominion years ago was to connect Vancouver Island with a continental railroad, but did not. Our population and resources are much greater now and the people of Victoria are entitled to that railroad connection. Now that the Dominion runs the Canadian National it would be just as easy to connect the island to provide the connection.
JOHN CREED,
1621 Fernwood Road, February 8, 1930.

EDUCATION
Sir—Re the letter by Mrs. Bains in Friday's Colonist—how much more education is there? I think the best name is "unfair education." When the property owners with the stupendous amount wanted each year to carry on, I wonder they don't turn grey in a few hours. There are hundreds of well-fixed people in Victoria who don't pay a cent direct for their children's education. There are hundreds as well who never had a child to send to school, and who are unfortunate enough to own property he is called upon to educate other peoples' children. If you are a Catholic you have your children educated by the Catholic Church, yet you pay for the education of Protestant children.
Why everything is added upon the shoulders of property owners is what I would like explained—elevators, cold storage plants, John Street bridge, and a dozen stereotypes. Go to the High School any day and see children of seven-teen to twenty driving up in cars, whose parents want something for them to occupy their minds with. All the professions are now overcrowded. If people want some first-hand information about school expenses, get the city's annual report of 1929 and they can see some staggering figures.

REASON HILL PARK IMPROVEMENTS
Sir—Now that the Beacon Hill Park appropriation has been set aside for some time, it is a pity that the park, which has been so long a favorite spot, much could be done at a minimum cost if wisely spent. Instances, why not make square in which Burns monument is placed into a planned-out flower bed; being surrounded by four roads it could be observed by the numerous tourists who are motor-drivers.

Your editorial a few days ago re the improvement of that plateau of land facing the sea, from Menzies Street to Dallas Avenue, was a very wise recommendation. The day will come when a pleasure pier will be erected facing that spot. Judging by the hundreds that were on the breakwater and along the Dallas Road on Sunday is quite proof enough that a seaside pier would be patronized, and that it could be turned into a revenue producing concern as is done at English seaside resorts.
Some pathway improvement should be attended to along the lower park side from Niagara Street to Simcoe Street, and the ground abutting to same guarded from teams and autos.
Last Summer as I was talking to an American tourist top of Beacon Hill he remarked looking at the flag-pole: "What do you call this footpick and lanky? I thought this was a timber country." Really what is now wanted there is a neon light as a beacon to aeroplanes and ships at sea.
In conclusion I wish to congratulate Alderman Worthington for his appointment as chair chairman, as he has shown great interest in the park betterment, and the pathway along the waterfront that is about to be constructed.

The Rhyming Optimist
By Aline Michaelle
TOMORROW
"Manana, manana."
The staid poem says,
And never glimpse the glowing world
Which might be theirs today.
"Tomorrow, tomorrow."
A soothing, false refrain
To which men drowse away the hours
That will not come again.
"Manana, manana."
To tickle of castanets
And grace of languid, dark-eyed girls
How gladly one forgets!
"Tomorrow, tomorrow."
How lightly glide the days
When all one's thoughts and hopes are bent
On distant, dream-dowered ways!
"Manana, manana."
A curse to ward away,
Which can be only overcome
By living in today!

BURGLARS SENTENCED
VANCOUVER, Feb. 10.—Harry Rourke and James Crawford, charged with a series of burglaries, were each sentenced to two years in the penitentiary by Magistrate H. C. Shaw in police court today.
"Late again," said the manager. "I get here as soon as you!" "Look here, my lad, are you boss of this business?"
"Yes, sir."
"Then why talk like an idiot?"
Old Gentlemen—So you are going to school now, are you, Jackie? Jackie (aged five)—Yes, sir. "Spell puppy for me." "Oh, I'm rather more advanced than that. Try me on dog."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Proposals for an extensive development of the city waterfront have been made with a diversion to the elevated portion of the city at Point Street, where it is recommended that a reservoir should be constructed. The Cariboo mill and engines, left Yale today. Snow and ice are being off, the road now being open to Clifton.
The city will be asked to donate a site for a house for the Turner House Company, and to assist with a grant for its construction.

OPTIMISM
"The use made of the park during the last year has again been satisfactory. I would venture to predict that from now on there will be a great increase in the revenue as the public is beginning to appreciate the benefits of the modern cemetery the board can congratulate itself on having had another satisfactory year." (Extracts from report of trustees of Royal Oak Burial Park.)
In the tourist's search for pleasure, it will chortle that the remains of the dead are a lasting treasure. In our well used Burial Park.
All it needs is occupation—In the past it's paid its way. With increasing population There is wealth has come to stay. Last year's remorseless vigor Help'd to swell our balance sheet. This year we'll increase the figure, and provide another treat.
When the frost your plumbing freezes And pap's involved in fu— When the young lady says— There is hope of revenue. When they're reaching convalescence, They'll be smitten with a fear (That they've spilt a mild exorcism) On our income for the year. I have thoughts that make me merry— Brighter days are yet in store! Double joy 'twill be to bury Creditor or man-in-law! When you, leaving those that love you, Reach the park in course of time, You can have inscribed above you, As an ode, this joyous rhyme— "Snatched by death's untimely fingers, 'Tis a worthy thing I've done. Ever consolation lingers— I've help'd on Victoria's fun." —Anonymous.

RABBIT SHOWRepresentatives of Cony
Aristocracy Make Interesting Exhibit at Fair
GroundsPUBLIC WELCOME
WHILE SHOW LASTS

With four hundred aristocratic rabbits in the exhibition hutches, the sixth annual Victoria Winter rabbit show, held under the auspices of the British Columbia Provincial Rabbit Breeders' Association, opened yesterday in the poultry building at the Willows and will continue today and tomorrow, closing in the evening.

All classes of rabbits are well filled in this show, the stocks exhibited being first class and all of standard breeds. Among the fur-bearers are Chinchillas, French Silvers, White Siberians, White Flemish and White New Zealand. The Angoras, which produce the long, soft and silky wool for spinning, are exceptionally fine. In the heavy breeds, the Flemish Giants are, in the opinion of the judge, equal to any rabbits of the same variety he has ever had the privilege of judging. One of the animals judged yesterday weighed sixteen and a half pounds. Other heavy breeds in the show are Black and White Beavers, Black Siberians and Red and White New Zealand. The light breeds are represented by a wide range, among them being Red Belgian hares, American Blues, Black and Tans, Chinchillas and others. Odd lines are represented by several varieties. In the children's section there are quite a number of exhibits shown by sixteen exhibitors.

DISPLAY OF FUR

Showing what can be done with tanned rabbit skins, there is a combined display by the Woodbine Rabbitry and Mrs. P. Boucher, who includes tanned skins, ladies and children's rabbit fur coats, neckpieces, purses, gloves and caps. According to cards prominently displayed, rabbit fur holds its own in wear, appearance and comfort with any other fur, and is used under many different names by furriers for garments and other wearing apparel.

The majority of the exhibits are from the vicinity of Victoria. It was thought that they would attract a number of outside entries, but owing to the necessity of postponing the exhibition from the dates set in January, when several Up-island breeders were ready to exhibit their stock, the present show dates were not convenient for them. Judging began early yesterday afternoon, and is proceeding today. The judge in charge is Mr. N. J. White, of La Center, Washington, and he will make awards according to the rules and standards of the American Rabbit and Cony Breeders' Association. A long list of prizes have been donated by local merchants and others. The show is open to all, and lists of Mr. E. Greenwood, superintendent; Mr. H. B. Babbington, show secretary; Messrs. C. W. Wooley, J. Slater, E. Greenwood, W. G. Bird and H. B. Babbington, committee.

ROME, Italy, Feb. 10.—Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli, recently Nuncio to Berlin, spent more than an hour and a half in private conversation with Pope Pius today discussing his coming installation as papal secretary of state, and it is reported that the normal ceremony will take place within the next few days. Official announcement of Cardinal Gasparri's retirement from that office is expected momentarily.

Cardinal Gasparri, who is closing a brilliant career of fifteen years as chief of foreign affairs of the Vatican, spent today at his family home in the village of Scrofanone, near Rome. He made no announcement of his retirement when he received the diplomatic corps on Saturday, and it is commonly believed that he wished to delay his formal exit from office until after the ceremonies, scheduled for this week, in which he will receive the grand cross of the Legion of Honor and the collar of the Annunziata, highest Italian decoration which makes him "cousin" of the King.

Obituary

LOYD—The death of Mr. M. Bernard Lloyd took place on Saturday at St. Joseph's Hospital after a very brief illness. Born in England, Mr. Lloyd had resided in Canada for fifty years and in this city for the past twenty years, and is survived by a son, Mr. Leonard R. Lloyd, manager of the Imperial Bank of Canada at Woodstock, Ont. A Masonic funeral service will be held from St. John's Church today at 2 o'clock.

DICKSON—The death took place last evening at the family residence, 1109 McKenzie Street, of Mrs. Mary Jane (Jenny) Dickson, age fifty years, born in Yorkshire, England, and a resident of this city for the past three years. There survive besides her husband Mr. James O. Dickson, three daughters, Florence, Dorothy and Jean Dickson at home, one sister, Mrs. Percy B. Shaw, of Saskatoon, and one brother, Mr. Calvin Dickson in England. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

RARZKOWSKI—The funeral of Miss Mary Rarzkowski, who passed away on Saturday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital, will be held this morning, the cortege leaving the Sands Funeral Chapel at 8:30 o'clock. Ten minutes later mass will be celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral by Rev. Father C. E. Evans. The remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

KELLEHER—Mrs. Mary Caroline Kelleher, who passed away on Friday evening, will be laid to rest on Wednesday morning, the cortege leaving the Sands Funeral Chapel at 8:45 o'clock, and fifteen minutes later mass will be celebrated at St. Andrew's Cathedral by Rev. Father C. E. Evans. The funeral will be held in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

LOVE—The death took place on Sunday morning at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of James Love, beloved husband of Mrs. Edith Love, aged thirty-three years. He was born in London, England, for the past four years, a resident of this city for the last ten years, lately residing at 1132 Yates Street. There survive his widow, one son at home, his father, brothers and sisters in England. He joined the Imperial Navy and served overseas on H.M.S. Lancaster. The funeral will take place on Wednesday, Feb. 11, at 2 o'clock from the Sands Funeral Chapel, and the remains will be laid to rest in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

WIPER—There passed away at the residence, 431 Young Street, on February 10, Joseph Wiper, a resident of Victoria for the past fourteen years, aged eighty-five years, and born in Kendal, England. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his widow, three daughters, Mrs. M. Wiper in England, Mrs. E. Conway and Mrs. E. Smith, both of Victoria; four sons, John Wiper in Alberta, George Wiper, Ernest Wiper, all of Victoria, and a daughter, Mrs. W. C. Wiper. The remains are at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel, from where the funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be made in Royal Oak Burial Park.

GRAINGER—Funeral service for Mrs. Susan Grainger, who passed away in this city on Tuesday, February 4, was held yesterday afternoon, the cortege proceeding from the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home to Saint Andrew's Cathedral. Rev. Father A. Gaudette officiated and interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery, with the following acting as pallbearers: Messrs. J. Jones, P. Fitzsimmons, P. Watson and H. Milne.

KING—There passed away yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital, James King. Mr. King was born in London, England, fifty-six years ago, and was chief petty officer in the Royal Navy. The remains are resting at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. Announcement of funeral will be made later.

GRIFFIN—There passed away on Sunday after a lingering illness at the Royal Jubilee Hospital, Mrs. Ada Griffin, aged thirty-five years. She is survived by her husband, also two daughters and four sons, at the family residence, Langford Lake, two sisters, Mrs. A. Schunk, Langford, B.C., and Mrs. Scofield, Westwood, B.C., and four sisters residing in the Prairie provinces. The remains are resting at the S. J. Curry & Son Funeral Home. MOTION CALLS
FOR INQUIRY

Departmental Investigation Into Conduct of Mr. N. A. Watt, Government Agent, Suggested

SUBJECT STILL BEFORE HOUSE

A departmental inquiry into the conduct of Mr. Norman Watt, formerly Government agent at Prince Rupert, is likely to be held. This is forecast in a notice of motion which appears in the votes and proceedings of the House of yesterday in the name of Colonel Nelson Spencer.

The notice of Colonel Spencer, which is set for coming before the Legislature on Wednesday next, reads as follows:

"That a humble petition be presented to His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, praying that an inquiry be made under the 'Departmental Inquiries Act' into the conduct of one Norman Watt, late Government agent at Prince Rupert, while in the service of the Government."

The dismissal of Mr. Watt from his position of Government agent is the subject matter of a motion for a return of the House which is now before the House. This motion for a return stands in the name of Mr. A. M. Manson, former Attorney-General. The motion reads as follows:

"That an order of this House be granted for a return of the Order in Council dismissing one Norman Watt as Government agent, etc., at Prince Rupert, B.C., together with all documents bearing on the said dismissal and all correspondence relating thereto, upon or in the files of any minister of the Crown."

REV. GILBERT COOK
DIES IN VANCOUVER; LONG RESIDENT HERE

Rev. Gilbert Cook, who had resided in this city for some twenty years, but who had last Summer moved to Vancouver, died in that city yesterday at an advanced age. Mr. Cook graduated from St. John's College, near Port Garry, before the city of Winnipeg or the province of Manitoba came into existence. Sixty-two years ago he was ordained deacon, and a year later, priest in the Anglican Church. For twelve years he was a missionary in the Northwest Territories. Other duties at various places were in course of time assigned to him, and he finally retired in 1910, coming then to Victoria, having been incumbent at Kaslo for the previous six years, on service. The funeral will take place in Vancouver.

During his long residence in this city, he endeavored himself to a wide circle of friends, and, together with Mrs. Cook, took an active interest in mission work among the Chinese. Two sons by his first wife enlisted for the Great War and were killed on service.

MORE DISCOVERIES MADE AT JERICHO

(Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 10.—A Jerusalem dispatch to The London Daily Express today said that Professor Garstang, who is leading Sir

Charles Marston's expedition to excavate the ruins of the ancient city of Jericho, reported the discovery of the tower of that city. According to the dispatch it is a citadel which has been partly cleared, and resembles the defensive towers of the Canaanite city. It is built of brick walls twelve feet thick, rising twenty-seven feet above the foundation. Professor Garstang believed from the pottery he unearthed that the tower was erected about 2,000 B.C.

FARMERS OF CANADA HAVE OPPORTUNITY

Agricultural Representative in London Tells of Markets for Farm Produce

WELL ADVERTISED SUPPLIES SMALL

Traveling across Canada for the purpose of stimulating interest among the farmers of the country in the great market awaiting their products in the British Isles, Mr. W. A. Wilson, Canadian agricultural products representative in London, England, was a visitor in the city yesterday, leaving for the East again last night.

Mr. Wilson has been addressing agricultural and dairymen's associations on his tour and states the market has been prepared for Canadian produce, and now awaits an increase in the quantity. Blame for the smallness of Canada's contribution to the tables of Great Britain rests entirely with the farmers themselves, he stated. The British people are at a loss to know why a steady flow of produce is not kept up, considering the amount of publicity given to Canada by the Empire Marketing Board. Mr. Wilson told of great British realization of the need of economic unity within the Empire. Describing the publicity campaign of the Empire Marketing Board, Mr. Wilson stated posters are displayed in 800 British towns, and also in the schools, to impress on the people the advantages of trading within the Empire. In 800 factories, posters point out to workers that they should buy where their manufacturers go.

No topic is more discussed in Great Britain than the development of trade within the Empire, Mr. Wilson said. Referring to the Empire Free Trade campaign, he cited the case of a wholesale firm which has the largest share of the turnover of Smithfield meat market, owns 5,000 retail meat stores in London, does 90 per cent of the Chinese egg trade, and holds a monopoly of the cold storage trade in the United Kingdom. This firm, which also owns a line of steamers, has publicly expressed itself in tariff preferences within the Empire. It believes that, although its great foreign trade may be lost, it will quickly be replaced by Empire trade. Britain is beginning to realize the value of the Dominion markets for her manufacturers, said Mr. Wilson. Every citizen of Canada has a responsibility to the Empire. In her present condition of distress, comparable to that of war time, he continued.

Mr. Wilson gave the following British import statistics for 1928: Beef, 1,380,000,000 pounds; mutton, 660,000,000 pounds; bacon, 990,000,000 pounds; ham, 106,000,000 pounds; butter, 385,000,000 pounds; eggs in shell, 265,000,000 dozen; melange eggs, 55,000,000 dozen; live cattle, 800,000; live poultry, 1,350,000. These totals the Empire contributed as follows: Eggs, 23 per cent; poultry, 22 per cent; butter, 46 per cent; ham, 14.2 per cent; bacon, 9.8 per cent.

Canada contributes to the British market one-fifth of one per cent of its eggs, one-half per cent of poultry; no butter; 12.1 per cent of ham; imports of Canadian Cheddar cheese fell from 163,000,000 pounds in 1913 to 106,000,000 pounds in 1928; and 1929 imports will be down by about 10,000,000 pounds. Canada has not kept pace with the demand for her produce, concluded Mr. Wilson. She must intensify her production, lowering the cost price without increasing the selling price.

POLICE OFFICER IS HIT BY AUTO

Constable D. Hodnett, of Esquimalt Force, Sustains Minor Injuries When Knocked Down

Knocked down by a car at the intersection of Esquimalt Road and Admirals Road on Saturday night about 11:30 o'clock, Constable Delmar Hodnett, of the Esquimalt police force, sustained injuries to his shoulder, wrist and ribs.

Constable Hodnett, in company with Chief of Police John A. Patterson, was proceeding west along Esquimalt Road at the time of the accident. They stopped at Admirals Road when a street car approached in the opposite direction. Another car, driven by Mr. Hector McMillan, 1430 Myrtle Street, was coming behind and Constable Hodnett alighted from the police automobile to warn Mr. McMillan to stop for the street car.

As the constable stepped out from behind the police car, Mr. McMillan's auto drew up close to it in passing and struck the policeman in the leg, knocking him down. After going a few yards Mr. McMillan stopped his car and returned.

Constable Hodnett was rendered first aid by the chief.

JUNIOR CHAMBER BANQUET TONIGHT

Tonight the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with the object of fostering good fellowship among the business men of this city, is staging a banquet and social evening at the chamber. A company of fifteen professional artists, by courtesy of the Coliseum Theatre, will provide an excellent entertainment upon the newly completed stage in the auditorium.

The Cedar Hill Parent-Teachers Association will meet at the schoolhouse tonight. Inspector Patterson will address the meeting. The association will stage a dance in St. Luke's Hall on Friday, February 14, the proceeds from which will go towards paying for a piano recently placed in Cedar Hill Schoolhouse.

City and District

Chimney Fire—A chimney fire at 169 Beach Drive, just before 5 o'clock last night gave the fire department a run. No damage resulted.

Name Omitted—In the list of donations to the Millicent Fawcett Memorial Fund printed on Sunday, the name of Mrs. William Grant, $10, was omitted.

Visiting Headquarters—Staff Sergeant E. Gammon, in charge of the Provincial Police in West Kootenay, is in the city for the purpose of conferring with headquarters. He will be here for a few days.

Rock Surfacing—The city engineer was authorized by the council last evening to proceed with the rock surfacing of Turner Street, from David Street to Hillside Avenue, at an estimated cost of $2,000.

Consolidation—Consolidation of the city electric wiring inspection department and the city electrician's department, with Mr. Matthew Hutchinson, city electrician, in charge, was decided upon by the City Council last night.

Further Aid—A further sum of $2,000 was voted by the City Council last night to alleviate the present unemployment conditions existing in the city. This makes a total of $4,000 appropriated to date by the council in connection with unemployment relief.

Milk Inspection—The City Council last evening adopted a report that Mr. W. E. Farmer be transferred from the office of poundkeeper to that of milk inspector, and applications invited from civic employees for the position of poundkeeper.

Zoning Board—The zoning board of appeal will hold a meeting on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in the Council Chamber at the City Hall, with Mr. Chairman, Mr. Duncan D. McTavish, presiding. The other members of the board are Mr. Frederick Landsberg and Mr. W. P. Marohant.

Welcomed Back—Alderman William T. Strath, who has been absent for the past few weeks on a business trip in Eastern Canada, returned to the city yesterday, and was greeted by his colleagues on the City Council when he resumed his seat last night at the weekly session of that body.

Plumbing Permit Fees—At last night's meeting of the City Council it was decided to amend the plumbing by-law in order to raise the inspection fees. The proposed scale will now be for the first ten fixtures, fifty cents per fixture, and for each succeeding fixture, seventy-five cents per fixture. These fees are to apply to remodeling or alteration.

Again Refused—The City Council last night refused to grant permission for a bungalow camp on Quadra Street, near Market Street, as requested by Mr. W. F. Towell. A report recommending against the proposal was presented by the public works committee, after further consideration of the subject, reiterated its view.

Application Made—To the City Public Works Committee was referred last night by the council an application on behalf of Mrs. Helen Clara Baker by Mr. H. G. Hall, C.E., for permission to build a number of auto camp buildings on the north side of Gorge Road, between Dundas Street and Garbally Road. The buildings would be between $1,000 and $1,500 each, the buildings to be of stucco construction.

Health Statement—Dr. Richard Felton, city medical health officer, presented to the City Council last night a report covering the health department for the month of January. The statement showed that last month in Victoria there were 70 births, 43 males and 27 females, seven of the latter being stillborn. Deaths numbered 57, composed of 54 whites and 3 Asiatics. There were 26 marriages here in January.

Tenders Received—Tenders received by the City Council last night for supplying a new motor patrol car for the police department were referred to the Police Commission and City Purchasing Agent E. S. Mitchell for report. Tenders for sundry supplies were referred to the various standing committees and the city purchasing agent for analysis and report.

Asked to Participate—The City Council has been asked to participate in the proposed deputations to Ottawa soon after the session opens in connection with unemployment, as a sequel to the recent Western Canada unemployment conference. The council's opinion on the four deputations is excellent, at that conference will be forwarded to the deputations.

Spoke in Vancouver—Mr. Irvine Dawson, Premier of the seventh Older Boys' Parliament of British Columbia, returned to Victoria yesterday morning after having spent the week-end in Vancouver. Mr. Dawson spoke at the morning service at Shaughnessy United Church, and at the evening service at Trinity United Church. Dawson was the guest of Mr. Kenneth Beckett, University Hill.

ANNOYING TO BE TOO THIN; DANGEROUS TO BE TOO FAT

There are several types of too-thin people and as many causes. What fattens some types makes others still thinner, even kills some. Dr. ROBERT O. JACKSON'S new book, "The Fattening Regimen," priced at $1.25, thoroughly presents the treatment of all types.

So are there several kinds of too-fat people. Only one kind of fat makes long life; some are seriously dangerous. All can be cured—yes, cured—for fatness is a disease called obesity. Dr. Jackson's book, "How to Keep Slender and Well," priced at $1.25, shows the safe way to reduce—by natural means. Most fat-reducing methods add to the fat person's danger. Send P.O. order for "How to Keep Slender and Well," to ROBERT O. JACKSON, M.D., 315, Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont.; or write for free sample of Roman Meal. (Adv.)

APPEALS IN SAANICH ARE DISPOSED OF

Court of Revision Hears Applications for Reduction of Assessments in District

FINAL MEETING ON FEBRUARY 20

Adjourning at noon on Saturday last, the Saanich Municipal Court of Revision resumed hearing of the appeals against assessments on land and buildings in the district at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. All the cases had been heard by 3 o'clock, when an adjournment was taken until 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening, February 20, when the proceedings will conclude. The adjournment was taken in order to allow of a personal inspection of several pieces of property in dispute.

On the whole, the complaints were more or less of a trivial nature, stated Reeve Crouch, who is chairman of the Saanich Court of Revision, with few appearances, a decided contrast with a few years ago, when complaints were so numerous that added accommodation was necessary for applicants asking reductions.

The sessions of the Oak Bay and Esquimalt Courts of Revision were continued last evening, and are still proceeding.

REUNION BODY TO HOLD FETE

BOYS' CENTRAL SCHOOL RALLY ORGANIZATION PLANS SMOKER FOR MARCH 14

Entertainment Will Be Held in Chamber of Commerce—Grand Gathering Here in May

The Boys' Central School reunion organization will hold a smoker and concert on Friday evening, March 14, in the Chamber of Commerce. Arrangements for the function are in the capable hands of Messrs. Frank Waring and Ernest Butterworth, and all who attend are assured of spending a pleasant evening.

This function next month will be a get-together gathering, and all former pupils and past and present teachers of Boys' Central School are urged to be present. Tickets for the event can be obtained from the secretary, Mr. C. B. Sylvester, 709 Yates Street.

A meeting of the executive of the organization was held yesterday in the office of Magistrate George Jay, the chairman of the reunion project. Reports presented indicated that plans for the big reunion gathering to be held here next May are well under way, and the rally promises to be the biggest fete of its kind ever conducted in the Capital City. Secretary Sylvester reports that there are many former pupils of the Boys' Central School who are now residing on the Mainland, and they have informed the executive that they are going to form an association there to secure a big delegation to come to the reunion here in May.

Registrations for the reunion are being received daily, and all former Boys' Central pupils who have not already done so, are asked to send in their names and addresses to Secretary Sylvester.

FUNCTION IS SUCCESS
Mother and Daughter Banquet Is Held in Connection With First United

On Friday evening, 193 mothers and daughters assembled in the Sunday school hall of the First United Church to celebrate the annual mother-and-daughter banquet.

After a delectable meal the guests joined in a lively sing-song, led by Miss Carol Menzies, who presided most ably as chairman of the evening. The Misses Gladys and Margaret Bonfield and Sarah Warnock then gave two delightful mandolin selections. The musical items were followed by a recitation from the "Loch Lomond" group, proposed the toast to the "Mothers," to which the mothers responded, and then proposed the toast to the "Daughters." Miss Muriel Hoy responded to the latter toast.

The main feature of the evening was the address delivered by Mrs. E. S. Farr. It was centered about two of the chief purposes of the health and welfare of the community. Mrs. Farr emphasized the great influence C.O.I.T. girls might exert upon the mothers, to promote much-needed health reforms in the community. The major portion of the address dealt with the splendid service of three great women—Jane Addams, Margaret Bonfield and Sarah Warnock, who had devoted their lives wholly to the welfare of their less fortunate fellows.

Miss Muriel Hoy brought greetings from the Oak Bay United C.O.I.T. group, and Mrs. W. G. Wilson conveyed the best wishes of Dr. Wilton and the congregation to the mothers and daughters. Miss Edith McConnell, of Miss Cameron's class, proposed a vote of thanks to the committee in charge of the entertainment.

An interesting item of the evening was the class roll-call, to which the president of each group responded.

A prize had been offered to the group which had the best decorated table. The prizes were awarded to the following: Mrs. Travis, Calvert and Nalanth, and after a few comments as to the beauty and significance of the decorations on each table, Mrs. Travis announced the winning group to be the winners, and called upon Mrs. Calvert to present the prize, which Miss Ellen Purves, the president, accepted on behalf of the other girls.

The success of the banquet was largely due to the efforts of Miss Carol Menzies, who, since last December, has worked faithfully and efficiently organizing C.O.I.T. groups. To do this, she has been very busy, and there is every indication that 1936 will be a banner year for the church for Canadian Girls in Training.

A large gathering of Japanese friends of the bride and groom met on Friday evening at the Metropolitan Church. The bride was formerly Miss M. Ishida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Ishida of this city. The long table at which the bride and groom were seated, together with the bride's party, was a most artistically arranged dwarf Japanese pine, the symbol of long life, and the bride's party was also being symbols pertaining to the marriage. Mrs. Toshiko Yoneda, the matchmaker, was the official mistress of ceremonies and welcomed the bride and groom. Seated next her at the head of the table was Rev. T. Ogura, who made a short speech in which he wished all happiness and long life for the bride and groom. Mrs. Ogura, Miss Viola Endo, a schoolgirl friend of the bride, and Mrs. Saunby, who for many years a mission worker in Japan, also addressed the gathering. Rev. W. J. Sipprell pronounced the benediction at the close of the banquet, and with him at the guest table were Dr. and Mrs. Harry Johns, Miss Henderson, Miss Annie Nakayoshi and the speakers of the evening.

A very delicious supper was provided, as many as fourteen courses of Oriental dishes being served in Japanese style. The tables were decorated with narcissus and daffodils and the guests numbered over a hundred.

Birthday Party Is Held at Brentwood

An enjoyable birthday surprise party was given on Saturday night in the Anchorage Tea Rooms, Brentwood Bay, to Mrs. W. O. Wallace. The principal event of the evening was the presentation of a very handsome silver cake basket, by Mrs. Frank Osborn, subscribed for by the many friends of Mrs. Wallace on the occasion of her birthday. The guests assembled in the hall and a jolly evening was spent in card games, singing and dancing. Refreshments were served. Among the guests were Mrs. and Mrs. W. O. Wallace, Dr. and Mrs. Bertram, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sparks, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Osborn, Major and Mrs. Bates, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Endo, and Mrs. Fenham, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Squire, Mr. and Mrs. Kersey, Mr. and Mrs. Hadley, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. H. Rowntree, Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. Guy, Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Elwell, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kennedy, Mr. and Mrs. Fryer, Mr. and Mrs. Brin, Mesdames Fred White and Dealy, Miss Thomas, Messrs. Mother and Daughter Banquet Is Held in Connection With First United

On Friday evening, 193 mothers and daughters assembled in the Sunday school hall of the First United Church to celebrate the annual mother-and-daughter banquet.

After a delectable meal the guests joined in a lively sing-song, led by Miss Carol Menzies, who presided most ably as chairman of the evening. The Misses Gladys and Margaret Bonfield and Sarah Warnock then gave two delightful mandolin selections. The musical items were followed by a recitation from the "Loch Lomond" group, proposed the toast to the "Mothers," to which the mothers responded, and then proposed the toast to the "Daughters." Miss Muriel Hoy responded to the latter toast.

The main feature of the evening was the address delivered by Mrs. E. S. Farr. It was centered about two of the chief purposes of the health and welfare of the community. Mrs. Farr emphasized the great influence C.O.I.T. girls might exert upon the mothers, to promote much-needed health reforms in the community. The major portion of the address dealt with the splendid service of three great women—Jane Addams, Margaret Bonfield and Sarah Warnock, who had devoted their lives wholly to the welfare of their less fortunate fellows.

Miss Muriel Hoy brought greetings from the Oak Bay United C.O.I.T. group, and Mrs. W. G. Wilson conveyed the best wishes of Dr. Wilton and the congregation to the mothers and daughters. Miss Edith McConnell, of Miss Cameron's class, proposed a vote of thanks to the committee in charge of the entertainment.

An interesting item of the evening was the class roll-call, to which the president of each group responded.

A prize had been offered to the group which had the best decorated table. The prizes were awarded to the following: Mrs. Travis, Calvert and Nalanth, and after a few comments as to the beauty and significance of the decorations on each table, Mrs. Travis announced the winning group to be the winners, and called upon Mrs. Calvert to present the prize, which Miss Ellen Purves, the president, accepted on behalf of the other girls.

The success of the banquet was largely due to the efforts of Miss Carol Menzies, who, since last December, has worked faithfully and efficiently organizing C.O.I.T. groups. To do this, she has been very busy, and there is every indication that 1936 will be a banner year for the church for Canadian Girls in Training.

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The chief charm of fashion lies in its will-o'-the-wisp proclivities. Just when you are sure of a mode you find that it is passe. And immediately the feverish search for "something different" starts all over again. Take, for instance, the come-back staged by period frocks. And just when we were thoroughly satisfied along came the princess style, and we had to acquire a whole new wardrobe. Reversing things seems to be quite in order; therefore, the red-letter sports coat illustrated decided to serve two purposes. With the leather side out it is admirably adapted to sports wear, but being fully lined with tweed in red, gray and black mixture, it becomes a stunning motor-car or travelling coat. The high waistline is exploited and a clever touch is the yoke, sleeves and collar all in one. And one coat thus serves two purposes.

Visiting Friends

Miss Mary Rattenbury is the guest of Mrs. Andrew Gray, Catharine Street.

Officers Elected at Annual Meeting

The February meeting of the Robert Burns McMicking Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the Municipal Rooms, Union Building, February 4. Mrs. H. G. Bolt, who was again elected president, presided.

The report of the secretary and treasurer were read and adopted, the latter reporting a balance of $121.54. The meeting proceeded with a discussion concerning the Institute for the Blind, and particularly the blind people of Victoria, in whom the members are taking particular interest. It was decided to invite Miss McKellar, a teacher of the blind, to visit this chapter.

Discussions followed regarding the Mary Croft Memorial, and the "get-together" dinner, to be held some time in April, and a donation was voted to the Municipal fund.

Mrs. Katie Goss gave an interesting report on the last Municipal meeting.

Great interest was taken in the proposed excursion this chapter intends to sponsor some time early in June, and Miss Elsie Jenkins was put in charge of investigations in this connection.

Tickets for the "hope chest," which is to be given away in May, have been issued and are now obtainable from the members of the chapter, and Miss Kathleen Tadmor, who is in charge of the tickets. The annual reports were read and adopted, and the regent congratulated the members on the year's work.

The result of the election of officers for 1930 is as follows: Regent, Mrs. H. G. Bolt (re-election); first vice-regent, Miss Hilda Marggerts (re-election); second vice-regent, Mrs. Katie Goss; secretary, Miss Elsie (Toodles) McPherson; treasurer, Miss Kathleen Tadmor (re-election); education secretary, Miss Kathleen Knapton; Echoes, Miss Elsie Jenkins; standard bearer, Miss Helen Bolt, and sub-standard bearer, Miss Grace Goss. The regent and education secretary were Miss Allison Chow, Miss Gladys Sheret, Miss Tressie Gilliland, Miss Winnie Sheret and Miss Alice Allan.

It was proposed that the chapter hold a dance early in March, and Miss Elsie Jenkins, Miss Winnie Sheret and Miss Alice Allan were elected a committee to look into the matter.

Members were reminded of the "get-together" Valentine social to be held tonight (February 11), at the home of the Misses Gladys and Winnie Sheret, 131 Clarence Street, James Bay. All members are requested to attend. The March meeting will be held at the Municipal Rooms.

Weddings

EASTEROBROOK-CAIRNS

NANAIMO, Feb. 10.—A very pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Church, when Margaret, daughter of Mrs. W. Cairns, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Easterbrook, son of Mrs. George Easterbrook, Rev. Canon Hitchcock officiating. The bride wore a lovely gown of shell crepe satin with semi-fitting bodice and a full skirt with graduating hemline. She carried a shower bouquet of daffodils. Her sister, Mrs. Johnson, attended her, attired in a gown of yellow georgette, also a dainty little flower girl, dressed in pink and carrying a basket of flowers. Mr. Joseph Easterbrook gave the bride away, and Mr. Leonard Easterbrook fulfilled the duties of best man. A large crowd of friends from the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony.

Mr. Ted Leffury, of Victoria, was a visitor here last week, and was a guest at the Arlington Hotel.

The Ladies' Aid, of St. Andrew's United Church, held its annual meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. McLean. There were twenty-one members present and officers elected for the year were: President, Mrs. George Forrest; vice-president, Mrs. Croft; secretary, Mrs. J. R. Motion; treasurer, Mrs. E. Stevenson.

Mrs. A. A. Lynn was a tea hostess on Friday afternoon at her home. Among those present were Mrs. M. Smith, Mrs. C. A. Cox, Mrs. P. Olsen, Mrs. J. Clark, Mrs. R. D. Porter, Mrs. A. G. Freeze, Mrs. Charles Taylor, Mrs. G. Forrest and Mrs. Pericoe.

Miss Victoria Hannay is a patient in the West Coast Hospital.

Mrs. Stewart Carter was a hostess on Friday afternoon at her home on River Road, when she entertained with four tables of bridge. Among those present were Mrs. L. A. Pines, Mrs. Harry Carter, Miss Alice Winlow, Mrs. A. Wood-Lee, Mrs. A. W. Nell, Mrs. J. L. Dunn, Mrs. A. H. West, Mrs. Dawson Turner, Mrs. C. T. Hilton, Mrs. D. R. Kelly, Mrs. Fred Weaver, Mrs. C. E. Ewing, Mrs. Carlyle Cook, Mrs. Stanley Raybone, Mrs. William Anderson and Mrs. J. B. Wood.

A pleasant surprise party was held on Friday evening in honor of Miss Peggy Frost at her home, the occasion being the seventeenth anniversary of her birthday. Court whist was in play, followed by games and dancing, after which dainty refreshments were served. The friends present included Misses Harriett Tuttle, Isabel Freeze, Dolly Prior, Hilda Clarke, Frances Dopen, Jessie Rust, Dot Mann and Catherine Swanson, Messrs. Bob English, Bob Symons, Johnny Guelette, Earl Wren, Emerie Vidal, Maurice Wren and Hector Frost.

In honor of her home guest, Miss Alice Winlow, of North Vancouver, Mrs. Henry Carter was a charming tea hostess at her home on Elizabeth Street, Saturday afternoon. Tea was served from a prettily appointed tea table, centred with a bowl of yellow daffodils and narcissi and lighted with yellow tapers in silver sconces. Among those present were Mrs. J. L. Dunn, Mrs. L. A. Pines, Miss Anne Prescott, Miss Mundy, Mrs. J. M. Mowatt, Mrs. W. Anderson, Mrs. Stewart Carter, Miss L. Maroon, Miss Arbuthnot, Mrs. W. M. Holt, Mrs. Gordon Campbell, Mrs. George Davidson, Mrs. A. McLean, Miss Alice Winlow and Miss White.

Dr. C. M. Pines returned on Saturday from the West Coast after spending the last three weeks occupied in his dental work.

Public Schools Club Plans Annual Dinner

The annual dinner of the British Public Schools Club will be held this year at the James Bay Hotel on Thursday, February 20. The dinner will start punctually at 7.45 o'clock, and a musical programme has been arranged.

The doctor prescribed a pill for the kidneys, a pill for indigestion, and a third for the nerves. And the patient wanted to know if the pills knew where to go when swallowed.

Students' Recital

On Thursday evening last a number of pupils of Mr. F. T. C. Wickert gave an interesting recital at his studio on Monterey Avenue, Oak Bay, the parents and friends of many of the pupils being present. Those taking part in the recital included the Misses Elizabeth Angus, Mary Angus, Hilda Bird, Christabel Browne, Hilda Browne, Cynthia Llewellyn, Margaret Neilson, Joan Pattinson, Mary Pentecost, Grace White, Masters Ian Angus, Bobbie Jameson, Francis Robinson, Walter Wickson and Kenneth Davis. In addition to solos by the above, duets were played by Elizabeth and Mary Angus, and Cynthia Llewellyn and Francis Robinson. During the recital vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. Pentecost and Master Percy Wickert. Certificates of the Associated Board of the R.A.M. and R.C.M. were handed to Master F. Robinson (primary), Miss M. Angus (elementary), and Miss G. White (advanced and rudiments). Certificates were also won by Miss Peggy MacDonald (primary) and Miss Mary Sinclair (junior honors and rudiments, Toronto Conservatory). These two students, however, were unable to be present owing to sickness. At the close of the recital refreshments were served.

Guild of Health

The fortnightly meeting of the Guild will be held on Thursday evening, February 11, at 8 o'clock, in the chapel of the Memorial Hall. The Rev. A. G. E. Munson will be in charge.

"How would you like to hear your little ones howling for bread?" demanded the beggar. The harassed family man sighed. "It would be heavenly," he said. "At present they do nothing but howl for chocolates."

"But why did you settle on Mand?" asked Shardel.

"I didn't quite, sir, but I reasoned this way: If Mand was alone in the house at the time of the murder, suspicion might fall on him. By asking all those guests, and by letting them know that he was ruined by Cupolis, he would not only be able to lessen suspicion, but also to provide within reach of Cupolis a number of people who had a motive for wishing to harm the Greek. That theory explained to me why the guests were asked, and why the crash was mentioned in the letter from Cupolis read by Mand in the music room."

Captain Shardel smiled. "You're very lucid on the whole, my dear fellow, but I think you are now confusing Mand with Mr. Cupolis. It was Cupolis, if you remember, who wrote the letter to the guests, and Cupolis who, contrary to his usual custom, personally invited those guests."

Clive expected to see Cobham covered with confusion. Instead, the superintendent only smiled.

"Your thinking so, sir, is only a natural assumption, and one that was mine too at first. If we are told that Cupolis is the master and Mand the secretary, we take it for granted. But we do not know that it was so, except on the word of two swindlers, Cupolis and Mand themselves. Every later step in my investigation tells me that Mand was the chief and the master mind, but reversed roles with Cupolis for the purposes of the swindle. Every one agrees that Cupolis was factitious, voluble, and a complete confidence trickster, but Mand is a man with a splendid education, a deep mind and a brain that we have no proof Cupolis ever possessed. I think the evidence will show that Mand arranged the coup from the start, with Cupolis nominally to share the profits, but intended in the end to get rid of his confederate, throw all the blame of the fictitious crash on him, and get away with the proceeds in a year or two, when the case was forgotten."

Clive and Shardel looked at each other excitedly and then back at the superintendent. Shardel exclaimed sharply:

"By Jove! It is possible."

Cobham nodded. "Now I had two facts, sir, to weigh against the possibility of an outsider having killed Cupolis. One was the direction of the scratches on the ledge, and the other the lack of footprints or traces leading away from the flower beds. I got a third clue from the grapple itself, and Mr. Merton was standing first to last, you will see that he had a kind of art you saw in Mr. Hawtrey on the stage. He had everything figured out to a hair; he had, beyond that, a naturalness that almost took me in. He never tried to deny things that seemed to point to him. He was too clever for that. He even made the marks outside his own window, and then explained them away, so that I felt almost convinced that he was innocent. In other words, he was prepared to meet not only the ocul country investigator he thought me, but also the sharpest Scotland Yard men, if necessary."

"Something that would prove, or seem to prove, the presence of an outsider would be helpful from his point of view. He knows pretty well that the ground is searched thoroughly in a murder case, also that p.m.s. and rivers are dragged in search of a weapon. It was my opinion that he deliberately put the grapple in that near point some time before the murder, with a view to its being found if the pond was dragged."

"And you any proof to bear that out?" said Shardel.

Cobham hesitated. "It seems to me that a slight film of oil had been spread over the surface of the grapple, to prevent it from rusting too soon, sir. I was rather cock-a-hoop about how I had got on, and then I went to town and got that information about Cupolis buying the grapple himself. It worried me. I sat down and worked them all out again. I had thought Mand might be the chief and Cupolis the real assistant. Taking that for granted, I knew Cupolis would suspect that Mand had already planned to murder him. If he did not (and he could not know the details of Mand's mind anyhow), I concluded that he had ordered that grapple at Mand's request, without knowing for what purpose it was required."

Captain Shardel laid down the butt of his cigar. "I said you were a devil for clues, Cobham. I think the house is 'with you'."

"But then, sir, I had a nasty fear when the suicide theory was brought up again, and that press talk seemed to put the lid on my work. I was keen to go on, and yet I wasn't sure even that I could make a score. But I felt I wasn't going to be done, so I asked an old police friend of mine, who is now an enquiry agent, if he would keep an eye on Mand, who was then secretary to Lady Gough. I knew that, even if he did find something suspicious, I still had a long row to hoe, since the weapon with which the murder was committed was still to be found. I had already ruled out the dagger. I can only say I believe Professor Loyard stole into Cupolis's room in a fit of mental aberration, intending to kill him with a dagger, but he had 'neaked' earlier from the trophy, that he found Cupolis dead, and dropped the weapon, afterwards climbing back to his own room. I am sure the mental state he was in the next morning was caused by the shock of that find following on the news of the previous evening."

"I agree with you there."

"Anyway, sir, I was told to lay off, and later I went to Monte Carlo and proved beyond doubt that Cupolis did not lose the investors' money at the tables. But before that I had struck me that there was an old and odd chair in the room Mr. Merton here had occupied at Tendon Oaks. I did not remember seeing it in Mr. Mand's room then. That struck me as odd, especially as it bore fingerprints that corresponded to Mand's. (I got them without his knowing, by the way.) Then I asked him casually once how Mr. Cupolis had got hold of the grapple, and he let out, without thinking, that they were music and old furniture. I examined that chair one day very thoroughly, turned it upside down, and saw that one of the legs had been recently taken out and inserted again. I smuggled that chair home in the police car and took it to my workshop, where I do a bit of joinery sometimes."

"You find clues in the running brooks, the ponds, anyway," said Shardel, "but the chair beats me."

(To be concluded)

EX-NAVAL MEN TO CONDUCT REUNION

Mr. E. S. Mitchell Will Officiate as Toastmaster at First Annual Function

The first annual reunion dinner of the Naval Veterans of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League will be held on Wednesday night, February 26, at 7 o'clock, in the Chamber of Commerce, with Mr. E. S. Mitchell, the president, officiating as toastmaster. All ex-naval men are invited to attend the function.

The toast list will be as follows: "His Majesty the King"; The President, Comrade E. S. Mitchell; Silent Toast: Rev. F. C. Chapman (St. Paul's Garrison Church); "The Navy"; Commander C. E. Slingby, R.N.; Response: Commander L. W. Murray, R.C.N.; "The Army"; Lieut-General Sir Percy Lake, K.C.M.G.; Response: Brig. One of two rival chapels in a village had just got a new and very smart organ. A member of the other congregation met the caretaker leaving the chapel one day.

"Ah, reckon that's gotten a organ," he said. "All this needs now is a monkey."

"Aye," said the caretaker, "and all this needs is a organ!"

Don't lie awake tonight—sleep!

WHAT a depressing state is sleeplessness! Minutes seem hours—hours seem endless. Back of it usually are nerves—strained, raw and fagged out. Nerves that are starved for nourishment to replace exhaustion caused by over-work, worry, or social effort.

If you are bothered with sleeplessness, feed your nerves with Ovaltine. You will find that they will calm down, digestive unrest will stop and you will sleep soundly and naturally.

Ovaltine at bed-time is the world's best night-cap. Millions of people have found this to be true. The natural nourishment in Ovaltine restores mental and physical poise almost immediately.

Ovaltine is prepared scientifically from ripe barley malt, fresh eggs and creamy milk. Nature's finest tonic foods. It contains all the essential vitamins and other food elements in correct proportions. It not only soothes and feeds the nerves but completely rebuilds your exhausted body cells and tissues while you sleep. You wake up wonderfully refreshed.

Try the world's best "night-cap" tonight.

Sold at all good stores, in 50c, 75c, $1.25 and special $4.50 family size tins; also served at soda fountains.

MARINE and TRANSPORTATION

Whaler May Aid Relief Of Adm. Byrd's Expedition

Norwegian Ships May Penetrate Antarctic Ice to Assist Marooned Expedition—Appeal for Assistance Urgent

OSLO, Norway, Feb. 10.—It is now almost certain that the big Norwegian whaling ship, the "Shasta," will penetrate the ice in the Southern Atlantic and attempt to rescue Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd's expedition, which is now marooned in Little America in the Antarctic. For some weeks appeals for assistance have been directed to Norway and even Great Britain, but the gravity of the expedition's situation has not heretofore been known.

The Sir James Clark Ross is a vessel of 12,450 tons. It has a whale capacity of 50,000 barrels, valued at $3,500,000. The ship has not finished its season's hunting, and it is understood that the difference between the value of its present catch and a full load, together with the insurance rates for the enormous increased risk involved in the possible wreck and spoiling of the catch, will be paid by the United States. Underwriters in London have been approached regarding the insurance rates, which will probably be increased 30 or 40 per cent.

Aboard the Sir James Clark Ross are more than 300 men, and a grave tragedy would be inevitable in case of a catastrophe in the ice. On the other hand, the urgent request for assistance by Admiral Byrd cannot be ignored by Norway, where good will naturally plays an important role. Admiral Byrd's fate is being followed here with the most intense sympathy.

CORA MARIE IS LET DOWN WAYS

HON. W. C. SHELLEY'S SEAGOING YACHT HAS GYRO COMPASS

Fourteen-Knot Craft Will Sail Under Colors of Royal Vancouver Club

VANCOUVER, Feb. 10.—The handsome seagoing motor yacht Cora Marie, owned by Hon. W. C. Shelley, was successfully launched today at the Vancouver Shipyard.

Limited, ways, Mrs. Shelley officiating as sponsor of the new vessel at the ceremony. A large number of friends of the owner were present at the ceremony.

The yacht is magnificently fitted and furnished, and is said to be the first pleasure craft in these waters to be provided with a gyrocompass.

Built and designed by Hoffman's, Limited, the Cora Marie is a fine type of seagoing vessel. She is capable of long cruises. Hon. Mr. Shelley has had her built with a view to every safety, comfort and convenience. Afloat on the water she presents a very pleasant sight. She has a maximum speed of fourteen knots. Trials will be run late this week, and then Mr. Shelley will take her over and she will sail under the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club flag.

MINISTER GIVES SERMON ON SHIP

Arrival of Cunard Liner Britannia at Boston in 1850 Is Recalled

The Cunard Line is distributing in booklet form the sermon delivered by the Rev. Ezra S. Gannett upon the arrival of the Britannia at Boston on her maiden voyage ninety years ago.

The Rev. Mr. Gannett's sermon was really prophetic. He foresaw the revolution in shipping to be created by the advent of the steamship; the closer linking of nations; the vast increase in commerce; the opening up of the ports of the whole world to the fast ships with the "iron foot."

Some extracts from the sermon follow:

"The ocean was intended to be the highway of the nations, on which they might pass and repass, and never crowd its ample space. Look, too, at that agent, which is now brought into obedience to the will of man and made conducive to his comfort, convenience and pleasure. How terrific and unmanageable appear its capacities, yet how admirable its adaptation to the wants of man in an advanced state of civilization, and how great their value in spreading civilization over the world."

At first man looked over the waste of waters, and saw only an impassable boundary, which laughed to scorn his wish to escape from the confinement which it imposed. But ere long he had scooped out the trunk of a tree or prepared a rude boat from its bark, and trusting himself upon the bosom of the mighty element which had at once awakened and modified his curiosity, he found that it was made for his use no less than the land. The rude boat was enlarged, its architecture became a study and an art, the mast was raised and the sail spread, and the galley and the barge were constructed to answer the demands of national honor or of personal luxury.

"As passed and the compass was delivered by the hands of science into the mariner's possession, the noble and graceful ship rode proudly upon the waters, and claimed to be considered the most wonderful production of human art. Science pursued its inquiries and perfected its calculations, and it seemed as if navigation had obtained the command of every possible means of successful struggle with the winds and waves. When lo! the air and the sail gave place to the ponderous engine, and the vessel which but yesterday was borne by its white wings across the Atlantic is today followed by the steamer, which treads the waves with its iron foot as if conscious of its superiority."

ICEBREAKER FOR HUDSON STRAITS

Steamship N. B. McLean Will Be Launched at Halifax on February 17

(Canadian Press) The icebreaker N. B. McLean, which will be employed for service in the Hudson Straits, will be launched from the Halifax shipyard on February 17.

This vessel, which will have a complement of about sixty hands, will cruise in the Hudson Straits during the summer months, while in the early Spring and late Fall she will be used in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

The duty of the icebreaker in the straits will be to notify shipping of the locality and drift of the ice and to maintain a continuous patrol en route to Nottingham or Costa and Mansel Islands.

EASTERN BUSINESS MEN NOW LOOKING TOWARDS THE WEST

VANCOUVER, Feb. 10.—"One of the most noticeable facts in connection with a visit to Eastern Canada is that the eyes of Eastern business interests are turned towards the West. They are closely watching every move we make," declared Mr. B. C. Keeley, Pacific Coast manager, Canadian National Steamships, who arrived from Montreal today.

"Not only are the Eastern men interested in Vancouver and Victoria but also are keeping close track of the developments and expansion in Western Canada. The model of the Pacific Coast is a close link between our development and theirs, as they realize full well that our expansion will be shared by them," stated Mr. Keeley.

Berengaria Model

In the office of the Canadian National Railways is a small model of the huge Canadian liner Berengaria, constructed by Mr. Jack Thompson, Glenelg Road.

Complete in natural color, with stencils, lifeboats and rigging, the model measures 12 1/2 inches long and 1 1/2 inches wide. The Berengaria herself is 819 feet long, 98 feet in beam and 52,000 tons gross.

NEW CT. NORTHERN SUPERINTENDENT

MR. ARTHUR E. KNIGHTS

With a record of thirteen years' continuous service as superintendent of the Montana Division, the longest time any man ever held that difficult post, Mr. Arthur E. Knights has arrived in Seattle to become superintendent of the Cascade Division of the Great Northern.

He succeeds Mr. C. McDonald, who was promoted to general superintendent of lines east of Williston. Mr. Knights is another Great Northern executive who has won his way up through the ranks from the very bottom. He entered the company's employ as a brakeman at Grand Forks in 1885, and was promoted to conductor in 1902. In 1916 he was made trainmaster at Havre, and a year later became superintendent at Montana.

It is anticipated that no change in sailing will develop through the increase in the fleet, although several new calls will be made in the Orient and on Puget Sound. Longer layovers on both sides of the Pacific will also be in order.

At the present time the Osaka Shosen Kaisha has in service the Africa Maru, Arabia Maru, London Maru and Paria Maru. The London Maru and Paria Maru do not call here, proceeding direct to Vancouver.

Built at Kobe in 1915, the Hawaii Maru is a twin screw vessel of 9,433 tons gross and 5,900 tons net. She is 475 feet long, 61 feet in beam and 32 feet deep. The Manila Maru was built at Nagasaki in 1915 and is of 9,455 tons gross and 5,919 tons net. She has the same dimensions as the Hawaii Maru.

SEAMEN'S FRIEND ARRIVES IN CITY

Mr. J. Ritchie Bell Tells of Welfare Work Done at Montreal

Mr. J. Ritchie Bell, who has for forty-two years been manager of the Montreal Sailors' Institute, arrived here yesterday to confer with the committee of management of the Connaught Seamen's Institute.

"Subsequent to the visit here of Admiral E. F. Bruen, C.B., and Sir Herbert E. Barker, in October, 1928, the matter of forming a Dominion council to take over, supervise and extend work of the British and Foreign Sailors' Institute in Canada has been discussed widely," said Mr. Bell.

"With this object in view a meeting will be held at the Connaught Seamen's Institute on Wednesday afternoon."

"Branches of the British Institute are maintained at Victoria, Vancouver, North Sydney and Montreal, the object being to care for the material, moral, social and spiritual welfare of seamen."

"The first floor of the building contains a concert hall seating 1,200 for Sunday services, weekly concerts and numerous lectures. Even a roof garden is maintained for visitors," Mr. Bell concluded.

WHALING COMPANY MAY SEND VESSEL TO ASSIST BYRD

OSLO, Feb. 10.—The Roshavag Whaling Company today expressed its willingness to try to relieve Rear Admiral Byrd in the Antarctic, provided it was guaranteed against economic loss.

The managing director said no whaler would be sent to the pack ice until a report is received from the expedition's own vessel, the City of New York, which is trying to reach Little America in the Antarctic, on an indentation of the Ross Sea.

I met a man who had called on his stockbroker and found him grumbling about lack of business and recent financial complications in the city.

He was about to leave his office for the day. As they were going out the caller noticed that the door of the safe—a large, massive piece of furniture—was open.

"Surely," said he, "you look your safe for the night, don't you?"

"As a rule, yes," replied the broker, "but as things are at present I would much rather that anyone should take the contents than break the safe!"

RUTH CHATTERTON
WINS APPLAUSE

Stars in "The Laughing Lady" at Capitol, With Agreeable Support

"The Laughing Lady" laughed her way into the hearts of patrons at the Capitol Theatre yesterday. She did a little fighting, too, with her laughing.

Ruth Chatterton in the title role, was every bit the sterling "talkie" actress she proved to be in "Charming Sinners"—and then some.

As the darling of society who becomes innocently embroiled in a scandal which threatens to ruin her social standing, she gives a portrayal which stacks up neatly against the same portraiture which Ethel Barrymore did with the part several seasons ago in the original stage play, by Alfred Sutor.

After seeing and hearing this brilliant comedy-drama, on the new Capitol talking machines recently installed, one realizes why Miss Chatterton has such a great fan following.

VARIETY "Teddy," a brilliant three-act farce comedy dealing with the whims of a fashionable debutante of smart society, was a triumphant hit at the Variety Theatre last night when presented by the Toby Leitch Players. Cast as the harassed father of three sophisticated girls of somewhat uncertain temperament, Raymond Toby Leitch added immeasurably to his great popularity among his large public in Victoria. Toby was a constant source of riotous fun in a play 100 per cent comedy from beginning to end. "Teddy" is a spectacularly successful play, with the modern atmosphere that distinguishes the current Broadway farce comedy hit.

PLAYHOUSE Kenneth Thomson, Theatre a much-in-demand young featured player, was in filmland, enacting the role of "Will Dare" in the all-taking Fox Movietone production, "The Girl From Havana," which the Playhouse Theatre is now showing. Based on an original story by John Stone and Edwin Burke, production of this feature took a company of a half hundred on a long journey to Havana, to the end that the scenes be filmed in the exact locale of the story.

COLUMBIA "The most spectacular feat ever filmed" has been the verdict of many in the audience of "The Cavalier," the Tiffany-Stahl special production featuring Richard Talmadge, Barbara Bedford and David Torrence, which is the current attraction at the Columbia Theatre, after beholding the popular stunt star's death defying leap on horseback, carrying Barbara Bedford, across the abyss stretching down hundreds of feet below to the jagged rocks.

ROYAL The Gordon McLeod English Players are now entering on the fourth week of their season in Victoria. Each week they are endeavoring to give the public a variety in the type of play put before them. This week an entirely different atmosphere will be created by the comedy, "Hay Fever," the product of a brilliant author whose works always bear the stamp of originality. Many of his plays are probably

Saskatchewan Legislature Opened Recently

THE opening of the Saskatchewan Legislature, under the leadership of Premier J. T. M. Anderson, Conservative chieftain, took place on February 6. known to the Victoria audiences such as "Spring Cleaning" and "Vortex," etc. But when he wrote "Hay Fever," specially for Marie Tempest, he broke away from his usual style, and instead of writing either a play in which sex problems might be the foundation, or a bitter indictment of society morals, he has given us a light comedy that is extremely funny and perfectly wholesome.

SAYS THEATRE
AID TO PEACE

MR. GORDON McLEOD TELLS OF IMPORTANT FACTOR IN CREATING GOOD WILL

Theatrical Conditions in Land Discussed—Invitation to Nurses' Home Opening

"Today the theatre is as much a factor for universal peace as any gathering of statesmen," was the opinion expressed by Mr. Gordon McLeod, head of the Gordon McLeod Company of English Players, now appearing at the Royal Victoria Theatre, in addressing the Victoria Gyro Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. McLeod considered that the theatre played a notable part in cementing the brotherhood of nations. "The same plays are showing simultaneously in many parts of the world, and this interchange of ideas will do much, I believe, to bring nations and the peoples of the various nations closer together." The speaker discussed theatrical conditions in Canada, and referred to the large traveling expenses which touring companies had to meet. "In Canada the stage is in rather an uncertain condition. Touring conditions are bad and it seems to me that Canadian people will have their drama by means of stock in future."

Mr. McLeod told of the original tion of the drama in the old Greek times, when it was formed through the religious worship of the god Bacchus, and traced the development of the drama and stage until the present day.

President Frank Burton extended the thanks of the clubmen to the speaker for his interesting remarks.

A recommendation of the boy's work committee, of which Gyro James McPherson is chairman, that the club sponsor membership in the M.C.A. for four boys of the Children's Aid Home, met with the club's approval.

The Gyros accepted an invitation to attend the opening of the new Nurses' Home at the Jubilee Hospital next Friday.

FAVORITES SCORE NEW TRIUMPHS
Buddy Rogers and Nancy Carroll Appear in "Illusion" at Dominion

When the debutantes of Park Avenue society rub shoulders with the denizens of Broadway's stage, sparks are sure to fly and hearts are sure to break in one or both of the rival camps.

That is the working formula of Mr. Arthur Train's notable novel, "Illusion," and it is also the recipe for Paramount's all-talking picture, now appearing at the Dominion Theatre, in addressing the Victoria Gyro Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel.

"Oh, James, dear," said Stella, "I can't understand why you lavish your affections on me above all the other girls in the world. Do tell me why it is."

"Hastened if I know," he replied, "and all my pals say they're blown if they can make it out either!"

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

POISONOUS FOODS

Some foods are poisonous in themselves. The primitive man who writhed in agony after eating certain foods was an object lesson to his fellows to show what was harmful and what was safe. Among every nation of man there have been different vegetable and animal substances that have been recognized as poisonous. During the Greek ascendancy, for example, hemlock was recognized as a one-way ticket over the river Styx, and we have all read of the beautiful philosopher, Socrates, who spoke a wonderful discourse upon death as he drained the hemlock cup. This is especially true after record well and often the tricks of the beautiful ladies who tried to get rid of their excess husbands.

When poisonous wine and poisonous rings failed, they had recourse to poisoning the chef to include some deadly mushrooms in the menu.

In America many cases of mushroom poisoning are reported each year. This is especially true after a period of rain, which causes the poisonous mushrooms, sometimes called toadstools, to grow on the damp rich loam.

Some foods, such as oysters and shellfish, which are not ordinarily poisonous, may become so by being polluted in growing or handling, or by spoilage.

Ergotism was a spectacular form of food poisoning which wiped out 40,000 people in the year 922 when a famine forced the populace to eat rye that was diseased with smut. This once feared plague is now nearly wiped out.

Botulism is another of the more drastic poisons which happily is no longer frequent. This poison is due to a toxin developed in the foods by the bacillus botulinus. Its action on foods occurs outside of the body since the bacteria seem to be unable to grow in the human organism. Many cases have occurred in America from eating canned foods, especially home canned varieties.

This poisoning may also occur in sausage and some meats. It is a good plan for a family to immediately discard any food that seems spoiled, discolored, or has a peculiar taste or odor.

Food poisoning may also occur from the accidental addition of tin or lead during the cooking. For example, tomatoes or other fruits should not be cooked in an open vessel.

Food poisoning may also cover a multitude of dietetic sins. Sometimes ordinary wholesome foods may cause apparent poisoning if used in the wrong way, if the digestive system becomes overloaded from eating too much of even good food, or from eating inharmonious mixtures.

The right treatment for poisoning is indicated by nature when an immediate vomiting is caused to empty the stomach, and a diarrhoea to throw it out of the bowels. If the stomach and bowels are completely emptied and flushed with warm water, a recovery may take place rapidly. Although the symptoms of cramps, the weak feeling and the trembling which goes with food poisoning may seem severe, remember that these cases are by no means always fatal and can usually be quickly overcome by assisting the body in its process of cleansing by vomiting and diarrhoea. Drinking large amounts of warm water will assist the vomiting, and copious enemata will help to cleanse the intestines.

"STRANGLER" LEWIS TO APPEAR HERE FRIDAY

Lions Creep Up by Handing Victoria 5-0 Whitewashing

Champion Vancouver Crew Now Within One Point of League-Leading Bucks—Terminals Score Three Counters in Second Canto

VANCOUVER, Feb. 10.—The Vancouver Lions crept to within one point of the league-leading Portland Bucks tonight by defeating the trailing Victoria Cubs, 5-0, in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game.

Sammy McAdam and Jack Beattie played leading roles in Vancouver's victory, which came hard on the heels of a 4-to-3 reverse they suffered at the hands of the homeless Cubs Friday night. McAdam scored two goals, while Beattie got one and aided in another. And, besides, these two peppy forwards were a continual menace to the Victoria cage all night. The winners' other two counters came from the sticks of Blyth and Joe Jerwa. It was Blyth's first goal in pro company, the former Yorkton amateur giving a splendid bit of himself in tonight's encounter. Earl Robertson, the Cub goalie, had a tough evening of it, and let a couple of easy counters slip past him.

LIONS SHOW REAL FURY

The Lions deserved their victory and played bang-up hockey throughout the sixty minutes. On the other hand, the Cubs never let up, and as a result it was fast and interesting hockey with the first two periods being quite as fast as anything staged here this winter or any other winter for that matter.

The homesters got one in the first period, when Beattie slipped one past Robertson from the blue line. In the middle frame, the Lions went on a rampage and banged in three counters, McAdam getting the first two and Blyth the third. Blyth's goal resulted from a pretty individual effort by the newcomer to professional ranks. He snared a loose puck outside the blue-line, pivoted and swerved past the startled Victoria defence, and tore in on Robertson to give the latter no chance on his close-in shot.

Joe Jerwa kept himself in the league scoring race by flicking one in from the blue-line early in the final session. Manager Art Ross, of the Boston Bruins, American section leader in the N.H.L. and Stanley Cup champions, was a spectator at tonight's game.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Vancouver, Beattie, 18:27; penalties: Kenny, J. Jerwa, H. Runge.

Second period—2, Vancouver, McAdam (Beattie), 1:05; 4, Vancouver, Blyth, 1:05; penalties: Brennan, Kenny, Kelly, J. Jerwa, Osmundson.

Third period—Vancouver, J. Jerwa, 6:52; penalties: H. Runge.

And if he decides to come West, which seems likely, Nate Drumman, the former Victoria player, will show the "man mountain" in a Seattle ring.

Waterman, who has already wired Carnera's manager for the Venetian carter's services, said that the proposed show would not be any "Max Schmeling exhibition."

"Of course, Carnera will not meet any Sharkey or Dempsey in Seattle, but whoever he is pitted against he will go in there to fight," said Waterman. "It won't be any sparring match."

While the proposed tour of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle is still pending, the club officials have already begun negotiations for a suitable opponent for the 275-pound giant. Their first choice is Long Tom Hawkins, Los Angeles Negro, who holds a decision over George Godfrey. Hawkins stands six feet five inches and weighs 240 pounds.

The big Negro, however, would probably be a better opponent for Carnera than the first three heavyweights he has met in the United States—Big Boy Peterson, Elmer Rios, and Cowboy Billy Owens, whom he flattened out with ease.

If Hawkins is unavailable, Del Wolfe, 220-pound Bellingham heavyweight, may get the call. Del Wolfe is now in the East.

It would be possible for 10,000 persons—Seattle's largest crowd—to see the huge Italian, as the bout would be held in the Civic Arena.

"Strangler" Lewis Wins Spectacular Bout at Seattle

SEATTLE, Feb. 10.—In a spectacular uphill battle, Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former world's champion, conquered Howard Cantonwine, Portland heavyweight, in a wrestling match here tonight. Lewis gained two falls and Cantonwine one.

Dr. Boak Will Attend Tennis Parley in East

Dr. E. W. Boak left last night to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Lawn Tennis Association in Toronto next Saturday as British Columbia's delegate. Dr. Boak will represent by proxy Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba at the meeting. One of the important subjects of the meeting will be the discussion of inter-Dominion tennis matches at the British Empire Games in Hamilton this summer.

EXPLANATION FOR SUNDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON

Chubby Lucius Had Thirty-Three Children—Mr. Lucius' home is Bay City, Michigan. He was born in 1832, and was married four times. In a statement to the press some years ago he gave as his motto: "Marry young and have many children—they keep you young." At that time he had one child of 67 years of age, and the youngest was a babe in arms.

The Pointing Pig—"The Dog Book," by James Hutton, pages 296 and 297, contains an account of this unusual pig. Edward Toomer, one of the King's keepers in the New Forest (England), actually broke a black pig in fight game, and to back and stand. Toomer said the pig to Sir H. Midway, who kept her until she was ten years old and too fat for this service.

A Blow of a Hammer Will Freeze Ice—Mr. W. H. Smythe, of Berkeley, Cal., noted engineer and author, explains that when the hammer strikes the piston the sudden pressure causes the water to heat and absorb some air. When the piston is suddenly released the air pressure is likewise suddenly lowered, and this causes the absorbed air in the heated water to be rapidly released, with considerable evaporation. The heat lost by conduction to and through cylinder walls, and by the water to the expanding air and vapor, will cause the remaining water to cool very rapidly to below the freezing point, hence ice will result.

Tentative Dates for N.H.L. Play-Offs Set

Finals for Stanley Cup Scheduled to Start on April 1—League Championship Play-Offs Will Commence on March 20

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The board of governors of the National Hockey League set tentative dates for the play-offs for the league championship and for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the world's professional championship, at its meeting here today.

The selection of these dates was the principal business of the meeting and the New York Americans and Detroit Cougars withdrew their protests of games played here.

The dates chosen for the league championships play-off, consisting of the best three out of five games between the teams finishing first in the two groups, are March 20, 22, 25, 27, and 30. The first two games will be played on the home ice of the International Group winners.

The second place teams of the two divisions will meet in a series of two games, total goals to count, on March 20, and 22 or 25. The third place teams will meet in a similar series on the same dates.

DUNCAN BADMINTON PLAYERS TO ENTER B.C. CHAMPIONSHIPS

DUNCAN, Feb. 10.—The Duncan Badminton Club will send a strong contingent to Vancouver this week to compete in the British Columbia championships tournament. Eric Leney, Vancouver Island champion in men's singles, is entered and will play with Miss Uriea Norrie in the mixed. This pair holds the Island title in that division. Leney and Alfred Basset will make a team in men's doubles that will be hard to stop. Miss Marjorie Leney, who has held the Island championship in ladies' singles for two years, is entered as is Miss Anna Kier, the runner-up, a brilliant and dangerous racket wielder at all times. These women hold the Island doubles title and are partners in the Vancouver meet. Mrs. Sheridan-Rice is another entry from Duncan and will be partnered by Basset in the mixed event.

McNamara and Belloni Lead Bike Marathon

CHICAGO, Feb. 10.—Reggie McNamara and Gastano Belloni, winners of Chicago's last six-day bicycle race, moved in first place tonight in the current grind at the Chicago Stadium, displacing Jimmy Walthour and Franz Deuberg.

At the close of the twenty-fifth hour the Italian-American pair had covered 411 miles, six laps, a little more than the Belgian-American team of Gerard Debeets and Tony Beckman.

WEST ROAD CAGERS CAPTURE TWO GAMES FROM LOCAL TEAMS

BRENTWOOD, Feb. 10.—West Road captured two out of three exhibition basketball games played at the Temperance Hall here Saturday night. The Red Birds, contenders for the women's city title, won their game against the West Road girls, 24-19, while the West

Midweek Soccer Teams Scheduled To Resume Play

MIDWEEK soccer teams will make another effort to resume play with two league matches on the programme. Hudson's Bay will be at home to Saanich United at the Royal Athletic Park, while Bachelors' Food Store will entertain the Navy at Beacon Hill. Kick-offs are set for 2:45 o'clock.

NEW SCHEDULE RELEASED FOR RUGBY SERIES

Cold Weather and Withdrawal of Three Teams Force Officials to Re-new Rugby Draw

EIGHT FIFTEENS IN COMPETITION

Owing to the protracted cold weather that has been in evidence during the past month and the withdrawal of three schools from the competition, a new schedule is released by Captain F. G. Dexter for the Cowichan Cup Rugby series.

This series has been the joy of the youthful rugbiers attending the grade and high schools for many years and therefore all are looking forward to the time when they may step onto the field and show their ability. Last season a merry battle took place between the teams competing before the champions were declared.

With Boys' Central, Oaklands and Victoria High School entered from the city schools and Oak Bay High School, Willows, St. Michael's and Monterey entered from the Oak Bay district and University School from Mount Toimie, some of the finest tussles for many a season are expected to be played this year.

Competitors must be under fifteen years of age on January 1, 1930 and under 120 pounds in weight on the day before the first match or under sixteen years of age on January 1, 1930 or under 110 pounds on the day before the first match. These rules, according to Captain Dexter, must be adhered to in the fullest extent or the school violating them will be subject to disqualification.

The first round must be completed by February 21 and the second round by February 26. The draw with the first-mentioned team as the home fifteen has just been released. The home club must supply the referee, a regulation ball and the grounds for the game. The draw is as follows:

Boys' Central vs. Victoria High School
Oaklands vs. St. Michael's
Monterey vs. Willows
University School vs. Oak Bay High

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL AND J.B.A.A. FIGHT TO SCORELESS DRAW

In one of the hardest-fought games of the season, University School held J.B.A.A. fifteen to a scoreless draw on their home grounds Saturday, in a regular intermediate Rugby League feature. Oak Bay Wanderers scored an 18-3 victory over Canadian Scottish at the Oak Bay Park in the other game.

In the School-Bays fixture both teams played hard throughout, but failed to cross each other's line. Many times the School's forwards came within an ace of crossing their opponents' line, but the Bays' defensive tactics stood out. Ackland refereed, and the teams were:

J.B.A.A.—Lynn, Ford, Norris, Ormand, Taylor, George Hall, Murray, Kirkham, Dunn, Cudlip, Williams, Thorpe and Lundy.

University School—Tuk, Mercer, Taylor, Aikman, Brinkley, Northrop, MacDonald, Heas, Fitzgerald, Worthington, Keate, Orme, Mortimer, Holmes and Bristolow.

TORONTO GIRL SETS TWO WORLD RECORDS

Mrs. Potter Shatters Half and Three-Quarter-Mile Marks at Ottawa Meet

OTTAWA, Feb. 10.—Two world's skating records were shattered today by Mrs. Lella Brooks Potter, as the Toronto flash carried off the honors of the women's North American outdoor speed skating championships held in connection with the Ottawa Winter carnival.

Mrs. Potter first clipped 43.5 seconds off the half-mile record held by Loretta Neitzel, of Detroit, and a few minutes later lowered her own three-quarter-mile mark by 10.1 seconds. The time for the half-mile dash was 1:30, while she covered the longer route in 2:21.3.

Roberti Wins Italian Heavyweight Title

FLORENCE, Italy, Feb. 10.—Roberto Roberti tonight won the Italian heavyweight championship, knocking out Buffin in the fourth round of a title fight.

Former Mat Champion To Grapple With Bob Kruze in Main Event

Lewis' Opponent Is Three Times International Titleholder—Show Will Be Staged at Bay Street Armories—Three Other Bouts Carded

Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, who has been packing thousands of fans into shows in different Coast cities, will appear here Friday night in a grappling card to be presented at the spacious Bay Street Armories. The show, the first of its kind to be staged here for a number of years, is being promoted by the Tillikum Athletic Club and staged under the auspices of the 5th B.C. Coast Brigade, Canadian Artillery.

Bob Kruze, Portland matman, who has been secured as an opponent for the "Strangler" is three times international champion, and rated as one of the best grapplers around for the school violence. The definite was decided upon last night, Fred Richardson, secretary of the Tillikum Athletic Club, stated that the main event will in all probability be an eight-round affair, each round being ten minutes' duration.

Three other bouts, a semi-wind-up and two preliminaries, will complete an all-star card presenting wrestlers from Portland, Seattle, Bellingham and Tacoma.

RIG SHOT

The show loomed up as one of the biggest in world sporting events that has come to Victoria for many years. Lewis, who lost his crown to Gus Sonnenberg, United States matman, is a colorful performer and gives the fans plenty of action from the first gong.

The staging of the bout here followed requests to radio station KJR, Seattle, from local fans suggesting that something be done here to try and get the show promoted. While in Seattle witnessing the Fielding-Fraser mix, F. B. Richardson interviewed the manager of KJR and the outcome is that local fans are going to be afforded the opportunity of seeing a former champion of the grappling game in action in a local ring.

Lewis' appearance here should boost Victoria as a sport town on the Pacific Coast, particularly if the house is packed as at other places where the "Strangler" has shown.

LEAFS NOSE OUT N.Y. AMERICANS

Youthful Toronto Forward Line Turns in Brilliant Performance at Gotham Arena

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Toronto Maple Leafs turned back the New York American threat yesterday with a 3-2 victory in a fast and hard fought National League game here.

The brilliant play of Toronto's young forward line was the feature of the game and was more than enough to offset the experience of the Americans. The kids scored two of the three Toronto goals after the Americans had taken an early lead.

The game was rough at times and six of the twelve penalties were handed out in pairs on roughing charges.

The Line-Ups

Americans—Worters, Simpson, Brydge, Holmes, Massac and Boyd. Toronto—Chabot, Day, S. Smith, Primeau, C. Conacher and Jackson. American Subs.—Conacher, Himes, McVeigh, Burch, Sheppard, Brumelster and Patterson.

Toronto Subs.—Blair, Bailey, Cotton, Nighbor, Pettenger and Duncan. Referee—Corbett and Goodman.

Summary

First Period—1, Americana, Boyd, 2:32; 2, Toronto, Primeau (C. Conacher), 11:34.

Second Period—3, Toronto, C. Conacher (Smith), 8:08; 4, Toronto, Bailey (Blair), 8:27.

Third Period—8, Americana, Sheppard (Simpson), 18:59.

COUGARS ROUT PIRATES

DETROIT, Feb. 10.—The Detroit Cougars routed Pittsburgh Pirates 8 to 1 in a National Hockey League game here yesterday evening and made a scoring record by piling up seven of their goals in the first period.

After two periods of ragged playing, at the end of which the Cougars stood one-all, the Cougars turned loose an unbeatable offensive, crumbling the Pirate line for seven goals, three of them by Herbie Lewis, Cougars' wingman. Lewis previously scored a goal early in the first period.

The Line-Ups

Detroit—Beveridge, Noble, Robertson, Goodfellow, Cooper and McCabe. Pittsburgh—Miller, McKinnon, Milks, Fraser, Darragh and Lowery. Detroit Subs.—Hay, Auri, Herber, Lewis, Mattie and Hughes. Pittsburgh Subs.—Jarvis, Drury, Smith, Barton and Manner.

Officials—Rommerell and Ritchie.

Summary

First Period—1, Detroit, Lewis (Auri), 13:20; 2, Pittsburgh, Fraser (Darragh), 17:35.

Second Period—No score.

Third Period—3, Detroit, Auri, 1:19; 4, Detroit, Hay, 2:40; 5, Detroit, Lewis, 7:22; 6, Detroit, Lewis (Goodfellow), 7:26; 7, Detroit, Auri (McCabe), 11:06; 8, Detroit, Cooper (Mattie), 19:10; 9, Detroit, Lewis (Cooper), 19:21.

Ladysmith Wins

NANAIMO, Feb. 10.—The Ladysmith football team defeated Nanaimo Southend Foresters here yesterday afternoon in the final game of the Midland championship by the score of 5 to 1 and captured the O. G. Ingham Cup. The field was muddy and slippery. George Kulai slipped three clean shots between the sticks for his team. Ladysmith's two other goals were shot by Nanaimo players, missing the ball. The score at half time was 2-1 in favor of Ladysmith.

How Dutra Plays His Explosion Shots

OLIN DUTRA, BLASTING FROM SAID "HOT" HOW CLUB IS PULLED THRU AND IN TOWARD HIS LEFT HIP

AS FACE IS OPEN BALL IS LIFTED

HEAD DOWN THROUGH HOUT

By SOL METZGER

Olin Dutra, a native Californian of Spanish descent who is pro at the Redwood C. C. near Los Angeles, is looked upon as one of the future greats of the links. Olin recently defeated Joe Kitchard for the Long Beach open with 216 strokes. Horton Smith took 232.

Dutra knows both his fairways and his sand traps and spends a lot of time in the latter. His idea for blasting them out is to use an open stance, dig in deep with the feet, keep the head down, and like Abe Mitchell when he hits through, Dutra pulls the club through and in towards his left hip. As the face of his niblick is open the ball is lifted high into space.

This scheme of hitting across the ball from right to left seems to be pretty generally used in exploding, as well as in tomorrow's release.

SAY EIGHT BALL IS THIS A FOUR AND A HALF CIGAR COURSE OR A NINE CIGAR COURSE

THE BABE SMOKES AN ENTIRE CIGAR EVERY TWO HOLES—

By AL DEMAREE
(Former Pitcher New York Giants)

Babe Ruth, the most persistent and consistent home run hitter in the history of baseball, is without doubt the most inconsistent golfer in this or any other country.

I have played with the Babe when he would take ninety-five on the first eighteen holes in the morning and then come back with a seventy-six in the afternoon over the same course. Or sometimes he would reverse this procedure and shoot his own round in the morning. It is usually some short hole calling for a niblick or snide masher that causes his medal score to threaten the hundred mark.

"Birdies" on the long holes and "buzsards" on the short ones is the Babe's slogan.

He is a prolific cigar smoker and usually smokes one cigar on every two holes.

He shoots an imported dollar ball and seldom looks for them when they go in the rough.

"I like to hit 'em, but I don't like to look for 'em," he explains after sending the eddie back to the pro shop for a dozen new balls.

LOCAL TEAMS ENTER ISLAND SERIES

Capitals to Compete For Senior "A" Cage Title; "Y" Entered

Thirty-Two Quintettes, Representing Districts From Victoria to Alberni, to Seek Island Titles—Le Marquand and Forbes to Be Referees

Thirty-two basketball teams representing districts between Victoria and Alberni, from the junior divisions up to the senior "A" sections, will strive for the various Vancouver Island championships this season, according to word received yesterday from J. C. "Scotty" Dowds, president of the association, following a general meeting of the body held in Nanaimo Sunday.

Out of the nine championships, which will be up for competition, Victoria will have squads in seven of them. The Capital City will let Chemainus and Ladysmith fight it out for the women's intermediate "A" honors. In the women's senior "A" division, no entries have been received, and therefore the title will be left open for 1930.

Victoria Capitals, present city and Island titleholders, will defend their laurels against the best squad that Nanaimo can produce. The Coal City quintette has been chalking up victories over the best teams on the Island lately and may turn the tables on the Caps.

In the senior "B" men's division, Y.M.C.A. under the careful eye of Archie McKinnon, will uphold the city's colors, and by their performances to date, will probably enter the competition as favorites. One defeat has been handed to them this season in eight starts. They have a fast, clever, smooth-working crew and will be counted upon to bring the title to Victoria.

Fidels, winners of the women's "B" honors last year, are expected to defend their title. One team is entered in this section from Victoria and yesterday the name of the team was unknown. The intermediate "A" title is expected to stay in Victoria with the classy Doo-Dads flying the city's colors. Last year the local Sunday school champions romped through the season and the latest competition without tasting a defeat. So far this season the Doo-Dads have ousted all opposition and also stepped out of their class to defeat senior "C" teams.

Victoria High School has entered.

Referees for the Island championships were selected by the board and are as follows: Lower Island, Tommy Forbes, Eddie Evans, Bob Whyte and Alan Le Marquand; Mid-Island, Herb Green, C. M. Reynolds, D. Inkster and T. Lewis; Upper Island, Galford, H. Broad, Patterson and A. North.

Following the meeting, Matt Hunter, president of the Victoria board of the B.C.A.A.U., gave a short address to the members of the association concerning the connection of that body with the B.C.A.A.U.

Reports from all districts were read by Gordie Woodridge, secretary, stating that basketball was making great strides. The following members were present at the gathering: J. C. "Scotty" Dowds (president) and G. Woodridge (secretary), of Victoria; E. Evans and G. Christmas, of Duncan; D. Inkster and H. Patterson, of Ladysmith; E. M. White, of Port Alberni; Cecil Mulholland, Pete Maffeo, T. Lewis and C. M. Reynolds, of Nanaimo.

The list of teams that have entered the various championships is as follows:

THE TEAMS ENTERED

Senior "A" men—Victoria Capitals and Nanaimo.

Senior "B" men—Alberni, Central Lake, Duncan, Victoria Y.M.C.A., Nanaimo Gallehads and Ladysmith.

Senior "B" women—Nanaimo seniors, Nanaimo Felixes, Shawna Lake, Victoria and Duncan.

Intermediate "A" boys—Alberni Nine C's, Chemainus and Victoria.

Intermediate "A" girls—Chemainus and Ladysmith.

Intermediate "B" boys—Ladysmith Whippers, Ladysmith Jaspers, Victoria High School and Alberni.

Intermediate "B" girls—Alberni High School, Nanaimo High School, C.G.I.T. and Victoria High School.

Junior boys—Nanaimo Wide-Awakes, Nanaimo High School, Alberni, Duncan, Victoria and Ladysmith.

Wrestling and Boxing Dates Are Announced

NEW WESTMINSTER, Feb. 10.—Thursday and Friday, March 27 and 28, are the dates allocated for the 1930 provincial boxing and wrestling championships which will be staged under the auspices of the New Westminster Amateur Athletic Association in the new Y.M.C.A. gymnasium.

Entry forms are being printed and will be forwarded to all parts of the province within the next week. An effort is to be made to have interior boxers and wrestlers enter the fray. In past events entries from the interior have been lacking and the fight centred between Lower Mainland and Vancouver Island athletes. A headliner to bring together Vancouver and Ontario scrappers is practically arranged.

City League Cage Titles at Stake This Evening

WITH two final city championship games and one senior "A" fixture on the programme, basketball fans have a splendid dish awaiting them when they arrive at the Victoria High School gymnasium this evening.

Colonist and Fourer will clash in the first tussle in the final of the senior "C" division, while Red Birds and Axions will meet for the women's "B" title in the second attraction. Capitals take on Peden Bros. in the final game of the night. If the latter team wins they will be tied with the Caps for the first place in the league standing, while if the score is reversed, the senior "A" title goes to Norm. Forbes and his crew.

The first game will start at 7:30 o'clock, the second at 8:15, and the final one an hour later. Alan Le Marquand will handle all three games.

Ring Champ in 1820 Had Primo Overshadowed

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 10.—Primo Carnera, the huge pugilistic importation from Italy, may be big but upon a time, as the story book says, there grew one bigger right here in our own United States, and he was a champion, too, or at least claimed to be.

Back in 1820, when a boy's first toys were a powder horn and a muzzle-loader, there appeared in the wilds of Michigan one Charles Freeman, who was recognized as the American heavyweight boxing champion, according to the records, and who also was claimant to the world title.

Freeman towered 7 feet 3 inches in height and weighed 330 pounds.

BOWLING

After dropping the first game by over 100 pins, Ups and Downs came back strong to capture the next two from the Colonist Compos in a five-pin league fixture last night on the Arcade Alley. J. Crazed Mob Runs Amok At French Race Track

Mistake in Running First Race at Vincennes Creates Wild Riot—Crowd Sets Fire to Betting Booths and Paddocks

By JOHN GUNTHER (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

PARIS, France, Feb. 10.—A scene unique in the history of the French turf occurred at the great race track in Vincennes when a crazed mob yesterday smashed fences, overran the track, emptied the nearby automobiles of gasoline and set fire to the betting booths and paddocks, all because of a mistake in running of the first race.

Several spectators were injured and the damage was estimated at $20,000. The race, had to be called off and thousands butted their way homeward through a quivering pall of smoke from the still burning sheds.

The crowd came early. The feature event was the Prix d'Italie, in which Uranie, great French trotter that has won this event five times, was scheduled to run her last race. She is eleven years old and is retiring this season. But the crowd never saw Uranie because of the curious accident in the first race.

Fourteen horses were entered in this event, but ten of them got under way ahead of time because their jockeys mistook the starting signal. They could not be stopped, and so finished the race. The authorities insisted that the race be rerun and, naturally the four horses that had not started were fresh, and crossed the finish line actually in one, two, three, four formation, with the fagged favorites among the first ten, far behind.

The crowd went crazy. Surging over the grandstand, the fans invaded the field, tore down fences and smashed windows. The police were helpless and sent out a hurried call for the army. A detachment of the Republican Guard, in their shiny brass helmets, came and tried to control the disappointed thousands. Someone thought of the gasoline in the cars parked nearby and set fire to the nearest series of booths.

Whipped by a rigid wind, the fire leaped down the line of ramshackle sheds, with the mob howling with delight and booing the helpless firemen when they arrived. The concrete stands themselves were not in danger, and the bulk of the spectators, among them many fashionable Americans, sat enjoying the spectacle and fire even more than the race Uranie might have won, and got warm to boot. Pandemonium was general until the firemen waited for the fire to burn itself out, and then extinguished the embers with garden hoses.

The riot continued for an hour and a half, and was quelled only when Police Prefect Jean Chippaux took personal charge and ordered the backers of the races to announce that money, both entrance fees and bets, would be refunded. The mob then quieted and lined up at the various gates to get their money back.

Varying fines of from $20 to $50 for beating the flag and refusing to return at the call of the starter, were assessed against ten jockeys. There were fourteen horses in the race, four being left behind when the other ten started.

AL ESPINOSA WINS HOUSTON OPEN GOLF

Chicago Pro Heads Field Home by Three Strokes—John Golden Finishes Second

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 10.—Al Espinosa, of Chicago, for the second consecutive day shot sub-par golf to return at the Crystal Garden to an open golf tournament with a score of 281 for the seventy-two holes. Par for the Rio Rico Country Club course, over which the tourney was played, is 72.

Yesterday morning Espinosa turned in a 69 round, while yesterday afternoon he shot a 73 to go over par for the first time.

His Saturday rounds were 72 and 67.

John Golden, of Paterson, N.J., was second with 284.

Harry Cooper, of Buffalo, N.Y., was third with 286, and John Rogers, of Denver, Colo., fourth with 287.

V.A.S.C. TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

Important Questions Will Come Up at Tonight's Parley at Crystal Garden—To Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club will be held at the banquet hall of the Crystal Garden tonight at 8 o'clock. In addition to the election of officers, two important items are on the agenda: the nomination of changing the name of the club from the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club to that of the Crystal Garden Swimming Club, and the instigation of surplus funds.

There are two questions that will be voted on by the members. In each case a three-fourths majority will be necessary to carry either of the projects.

The nominations made at the last meeting, held on January 8, follow: Honorary president, Mayor Herbert Anscombe; honorary vice-president, Mr. Cowlishaw, manager Crystal Garden; president, W. Robertson (R. W. Hiberson declined); second vice-president, T. P. Fairbairn, Warren Long, Mrs. Hiberson and Miss Gleason; honorary secretary, Miss Betty Pollard; honorary treasurer, W. T. Barrett; captain, W. Findlay and W. Robertson; vice-captain, Winnie Pollard and Phyllis Hodgson; polo captain, Lawrence J. Cameron and Phyllis Hodgson; W. T. Stanyon and P. Gilbert; life-saving instructor, T. P. Fairbairn and Mrs. Hiberson; executive, Mrs. McAllister, Miss K. Willburn, Phyllis Hodgson, R. W. Hiberson, P. Gilbert, J. Cameron and A. Stott.

Further nominations will be accepted at the meeting, and it is hoped that every member will endeavor to be present.

Refreshments will be provided, followed by dancing.

SOUTH AFRICA TO SEND CYCLING TEAM TO EMPIRE SPORTS

(Canadian Press Cable, via Reuters) JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Feb. 10.—The executive committee of the Transvaal Amateur Athletic and Cycling Association has decided wholeheartedly in favor of supporting the Empire Games to be held at Hamilton, Ontario, next August.

The committee recommended to the Union Amateur Athletic Association that the section should comprise from four to six athletes.

News from South Africa follows a cable from Australia, which indicated Australia will send, among others, two or three swimmers.

CONGREGATION OF ST. MARK'S HOLDS REUNION

Gathering Is Held at Sunset Inn With Attractive Programme and Community Singing

VICAR THANKS CHURCH WORKERS

QUALICUM BEACH, Feb. 10.—A pleasant evening was spent on Friday, when the vicar, wardens and church committee arranged a social evening for the members of St. Mark's Church. Colonel and Mrs. Playfair kindly placed the large dining-room at the Sunset Inn at their disposal.

Those present were Rev. C. H. and Mrs. Popham, Colonel and Mrs. Playfair, Mrs. C. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. C. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Aldous, Mr. and Mrs. J. Sanson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Thrall, Mrs. P. Robertson, Misses Janey and Joan Robertson, Mrs. Smythe, Mr. H. H. Jarvis, Miss Josie Hodgson, Miss A. Sanderson, Miss Edith and Violet Forrester, Messrs. G. S. Page, J. Smythe, J. Boyer, E. West and F. Hoare.

The first part of the evening consisted of a musical programme, with recitations by Mr. C. Bailey; flute solos, Mr. F. Hoare, accompanied by Mrs. C. Davidson; violin solos, "Sous-vieux" and "Gavotte," by D. Orsay and Miss Violet Forrester.

On the piano, Lita's "Lieberstraum" was beautifully rendered by Miss Edith Forrester, who responded to an enthusiastic encore by playing a "Prelude" of Rachinoff; "The Vicar of Bray" and "Loch Lomond," by Mr. West, closing the programme with community singing, after which games were much enjoyed and dainty refreshments served.

The vicar, in a few well-chosen words, expressed his gratitude to all the workers and supporters for their efficient help during the past year, especially to the president and members of St. Mark's Guild, and to the members of Mrs. G. S. Page's embroidery classes.

BASTION CHAPTER STAGES GATHERING

NANAIMO, Feb. 10.—At the home of Mrs. F. Cunliffe, the Bastion Chapter, I.O.D.E., held a most successful tea, financially and socially. For the occasion the rooms were prettily decorated with palm daffodils, which also centred the table in a crystal bowl on a base of fluffy leaf-green tulle; they combined effectively with golden tapers in silver sconces, Irish lace and embroidery and other dainty appointments. Those presiding were Mrs. A. E. Plante, Mrs. W. W. Lewis, Mrs. Tom Spencer and Mrs. G. H. Aldous.

Assisting Mrs. Cunliffe in receiving the many guests was Mrs. A. Foster, regent of the chapter. Conveners of the refreshments were Mrs. Coldicutt and Mrs. J. F. Edge. Partinging. They were ably assisted by Miss E. Dickinson, Mrs. Dawe and Miss Fenimore, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Pepton were cashiers.

A pleasing feature was an exhibition dance by little Miss Gulliford. An interesting musical programme followed, which was in charge of Mrs. W. W. Lewis and was contributed to by Miss Beth Emery and Miss Dobson, who pleased the audience with their pianoforte selections, and Mrs. Frank Reynolds and Beth Emery in vocal numbers. By request, Mrs. Reynolds sang a third number, "Dreamland Bay," a song of her own composition. Mrs. F. Newman played brilliant accompaniments.

Mrs. Tom Spencer and Mrs. W. Lewis had charge of the competition. The winners were: Mrs. Emeline Dickinson, first prize, silk stockings; Mrs. Cunliffe, second prize, a potted plant.

TOFINO PREPARES FOR SEASON WITH SPRING SALMON

TOFINO, Feb. 6 (By Mail).—For the past two weeks Tofino has been awakened from its annual condition of winter inactivity, for, during that time, launches and boats of all sizes and styles of marine construction designed for the purpose of fishing, could be seen hurrying into and out of the bay, in preparation for the summer campaign.

Several of these boats have made tentative attempts at fishing during the past week, but, as they only succeeded in annexing a few desultory specimens of the plebeian and low priced codfish family, there has been little cause for congratulation until today, when Yamata, a Japanese fisherman, returned with six fine spring salmon, the first of the season.

VETERANS TO HEAR COLONEL PECK, V.C.

North Saanich Branch of Canadian Legion to Honor Member for Islands

SAANICHTON, Feb. 10.—With the president, Comrade Nat Gray, in the chair, the North Saanich Branch of the Canadian Legion, at its meeting, completed plans for the annual reunion of ex-service men in the territory from Royal Oak to Sidney.

This reunion will be in the form of a complimentary banquet to Lt. Col. Cy Peck, V.C., D.S.O., M.P.P., who will give intimate reminiscences of the V.C. dinner held in London. Others who are expected to attend are Mr. H. D. Twiss, M.P.P., Col. W. W. Foster, D.S.O., and Mr. McNicol, secretary of the Provincial Command.

The Agricultural Hall at Saanichton has been engaged for the affair, which will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 18, at 7:15 o'clock. A fine musical programme has been arranged, and the officers of the Legion wish it to be definitely understood that all ex-service men are cordially invited.

Tickets can be obtained from the following: Mr. F. Gilman, Sidney; Mr. R. N. McAlister, Bannockburn; Mr. A. Calvert, Deep Cove; Mr. E. Lively, North Saanich; Mr. H. Blakey, Brentwood Bay, and Capt. Nat Gray, Saanichton.

SHOWER HELD BY JUNIOR INSTITUTE

KEATING, Feb. 10.—Miss Ora Young entertained the members of the South Saanich Junior Institute Club and friends at a miscellaneous shower on Thursday evening in honor of Miss Janet Sherring, who is to be married shortly. The room was prettily decorated with clusters of red hearts and the gifts were concealed in a large box prettily decorated in red and white.

Among the gifts was a beautiful white silk bedspread from the Junior Institute Club, in which the bride has been a very active worker. Several contests were enjoyed during the evening, the heart-tugging contest being won by Mrs. W. Hume. Dainty supper was served later in the evening, the table centered with a cake ornamented by a tiny bride and groom. Those present were: Mesdames H. Sherring, W. Michell, J. Patterson, W. D. Michell, F. Goodwin, F. Michell, F. Young, W. Hume, T. Michell, G. Bickford, W. Baie and Misses J. Sherring, M. Michell, G. Millar, D. Michell, M. Millar, N. Styan, B. Butler, A. Styan and C. MacNab.

FLOAT DAMAGED BY MOVING ICE

Tofino Float Torn Away From Moorings and Partially Demolished After Frost

TOFINO, Feb. 5 (By Mail).—Last week the 300-foot float that forms the inside approach to Long Beach from the waters of the Sound, was torn away from its moorings and partially demolished by the immense weight of ice that was hurried against it with irresistible force by the rapidly running current of the outgoing tide.

Owing to the unusual and long-protracted spell of frosty weather that has held this locality in its grip from December 23 until January 24, a great amount of ice had formed on the upper reaches of the bay, which was continually augmented by the influx of fresh water from the numerous streams running into it, so that when the thaw set in it was broken up and detached from the shore by the action of the tide, and swept oceanward down the Sound, carrying every movable obstacle before it.

Mr. James Moore, the road foreman, accompanied by a gang of men, is now doing everything possible to rehabilitate the wrecked landing place.

Colwood Burns Club

COLWOOD, Feb. 10.—The Colwood Burns Club held a successful dance in the Colwood Hall on Friday evening. Over one hundred guests were present, including the Knights and Dames of the Thistle from Victoria. Mackie's Orchestra supplied the music for dancing. The committee in charge was as follows: Mesdames J. Hopwood, W. Wishart, H. Parker, A. Godfrey, R. Murray, Mr. J. Hopwood and Pipe Major Wishart.

Fire Destroys House

NANAIMO, Feb. 10.—While Mr. and Mrs. Richard Halloran were in town shopping over the week-end, their home at Chase River was destroyed by fire. Some neighbors discovered the house in flames, but were unable to save any of the contents, everything being a total loss.

ASK EGG WEIGHT TO BE INCREASED

Express Traffic Association Applies to Have Nominal Weight Raised From Present

VANCOUVER, Feb. 10.—The Express Traffic Association of Canada has applied to have the nominal weight of thirty-dozen case eggs increased from the present standard of fifty-five pounds to fifty pounds, which would automatically increase the express charges, according to advice received from the Board of Railway Commissioners. Mr. Hugh Dalton, executive secretary of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here.

The nominal weight of fifty-five pounds was set years ago to save weighing of cases and standardize express charges. The Express Association states that a check of actual weights shows a variation from a "low" of 56.41 pounds per case in Saskatchewan to a "high" of 61.57 pounds at Halifax, N.S. The average for British Columbia was found to be 58.79 pounds.

It is expected that the Egg and Poultry Pool, which represents most British Columbia producers, will at once consider what action should be taken on the application.
